Zera Shimshon

by Rabbi Shimshon Chaim Nachmani zt"l Published Mantua 1778*

Chapter V: Chayei Sarah (Gen. 23:1-25:18)

Essay 4: The complex negotiations between Abraham and Ephron

בְּסוּק גֵּר־וְתוֹשָׁב אָנֹכִי עִמֶּכֶם. פֵּירֵשׁ רַשִּׁ"י אָם תִּרְצוּ, הֲרֵינִי גֵּר, וְאָם לָאוּ, הֲרֵינִי תּוֹשָׁב וְאָטְלָנָה מִן הַדִּין, שֶׁכָּדְ אָמֵר לִי הקב"ה לְזַרְעֲךְ אָתֵן וְכוּ'. מַקָּשִׁים הָעוֹלָם כֵּיוָן שֶׁהָיָה יָכוֹל אַבְרָהָם לִיקַח בְּדִין, לָמָה לוֹ לַעֲשׂוֹת עַצְמוֹ גַּר? וְאָם תּאֹמֵר לְפִי שהקב"ה אָמֵר לוֹ לְזַרְעֲךָ, וְהַשְׁתָּא לָאו לִצוֹרֶךְ זַרְעוֹ קָבָעִי לָה, אִם כֵּן קֵשֶׁה מָה שֶׁאָמֵר אָהָיָה תּוֹשָׁב וְאָטְלָנָּה מִן הַדִּין.

There is a verse: "I am a stranger and a settler among you; give me a burial estate among you, that I may bury my dead from before me" (Gen 23:4). Rashi explained following Gen. Rabbah 58:6: "If you want to sell me the land, I will regard myself as a stranger and will pay for it. But if you do not want to sell it to me, I will regard myself as a settler and claim it as a legal right, because the Holy One, Blessed be He, said to me in Gen. 12:7, 'Unto your seed I will give this land.' "Among the difficulties in the world is: since Abraham was able to take a burial plot by law, why would he make himself a stranger and have to buy the land? If you will say that it's because the Holy One, Blessed be He, said to him "I have promised to give the land 'unto your seed,' but I haven't yet given it to the offspring," then it is difficult to understand why [Abraham] would have said, "I will regard myself as a settler and claim it as a legal right."

ּוְעוֹד דְּאָמְריגַן בְּמִדְרָשׁ רָבָה שֶׁאָמְרוּ לוֹ בְּגֵי חֵת, שְׁמָעֵנוּ אֲדוֹנִי, מֶלֶךְ אַתְּ עָלֵינוּ, נָשִׂיא אַתְּ עָלֵינוּ, אֱלוֹהַ אַתְּ עָלֵינוּ. עכ"ל. וּמָה עְּלְיאוֹל הַרְבָּה אֲחוּזַת קֶבֶר? וְעוֹד לָמָה לוֹ לְאַבְרָהָם עַתָּה לְשְׁאוֹל הַרְבָּה אֲחוּזַת קַרְקע לְבֵית הַקְּבָרוֹת, לוֹ אֵלוּ הָשָׁאוֹל רַק מָקוֹם קְבוּרַת שָׁרָה בִּלְבַד, דְּתָּפַסְתָּ מוּעָט תָּפַסְתָּ? וְעוֹד כַּמָּה דְּקְדּוּקִים בַּפְּסוּקים, לְבֵית הַקְּבָרוֹת, לֹא הָיָה לוֹ לִשְׁאוֹל רַק מָקוֹם קְבוּרַת שָּׁרָה בָּלְבֵד, דְּתָּפַסְתָּ מוּעָט תָּפַסְתָּ? וְעוֹד כַּמָּה דְקְדּוּקִים בַּפְּסוּק הָבְירוֹן לוֹמֵר בְּפָסוּק אָחָד שְׁלשׁ פְּעָמִים הַלְשׁוֹן שֶׁל נְתִינָה: הַשָּׁדָה נָתַתִּי לָךְ, וְהַמְּעָרָה וְכוּ' לְךְּ נְתַתִּיהָ, לְבָּ, וְהַמְּעָרָה וְכוּ' לְךְּ נְתַתִּיה לְרָ.

Scripture says the Hittites answered Abraham: "Hear us, my lord: a prince of G-d you are among us. Bury your dead in the choicest of our burial places; none of us will withhold his burial place from you for burying your dead." (Gen. 23:6). But it says in Midrash Gen. Rabbah 58:6 that the sons of Heth (the Hittites) said to him, "Hear us, my lord, you are a king over us, a prince over us, a god over us." Why was it relevant for them to call him these names if he asked to buy a burial estate? Also, why was Abraham now requesting a large estate of land for a cemetery, why not just ask for room to bury Sarah alone, as: "If you grasped a little, you succeeded to grasp something" (Yoma 80a)? A few other details in the verses raise questions, and specifically why Ephron needed to use the language of "giving" three times in one verse: "I give you the field, and I give you the cave that is in it; I give it to you in the presence of my people" (Gen. 23:11)?

^{*} English translation: Copyright © 2019 by Charles S. Stein.

¹ The Hebrew Scripture quotes the Hittites as saying three words in succession, "[1] my lord, [2] a prince [of] [3] G-d." The Midrash cites the first word verbatim: "[1a] my lord," but then also interprets it as a title of nobility, "[1b] a

ְוֵישׁ לוֹמַר שֶׁכְּשֶׁאַבְרָהָם אָמֵר גֵּר וְתוֹשָׁב אָנֹכִי עִמֶּכֶם, נִתְכַּנֵון לְשְׁלֹשָׁה עִנְיָנִים. וְהָם כַּלֶּם רָמוּזִים בַּפָּסוּק גֵּר וְתוֹשָׁב אָנֹכִי עִמֶּכֶם, נָתְכַּנֵון לְשְׁלֹשָׁה עִנְיָנִים. וְהָם כַּלְּם רָמוּזִים בְּפָסוּק גֵּר וְתוֹשָׁב אָנֹכִי עִמְּכֵם וֹנִים לְנִים בְּחָזְקָה וּבַכֹּם הַדִּין. וּלְפִיכָךְ הַבְּנֵי חֵת הַשִּׁיבוּ לוֹ הַשְּׁלשָׁה תּוֹאַרִים שֶׁל כָּבוֹד: מֶלֶךְ, נָשִׂיא, אֱלוֹהַ, כְּלוֹמֵר שֶׁהֵם מוּכָנִים לְמַלֹּאת חֶשְׁקוֹ וּרְצוֹנוֹ בְּכָל מָה שֲשׁוֹאֲלִים מֵהֶם.

It's worthwhile to note that when Abraham said, "I am a stranger and a settler among you," that three things were intended, as will be detailed in sections "A" through "C" below. They are all hinted at in that verse, "I am a stranger and a settler among you," that if [Abraham's requests] were given to him, it would be good. If not, he would want to take [the things] from them by the force of the power of law. Therefore, the sons of Heth answered him with the three synonyms of honor: king, prince, and god, as if to say that they were prepared to fulfill his request and his will in all that he asked of them.

A. Abraham didn't want his request denied due to a belief he'd settle among them.

ְּהָעִנְיָן הָרְאשׁוֹן שֶׁאַבְרָהָם לֹא הָיָה דֵּי לוֹ לִקְנוֹת מְעַט קּרְקַע כְּדֵי לְקְבּוֹר אֶת שָׁרָה בִּלְבַד. אֶלָּא הָיָה רוֹצֶה לִקְנוֹת כָּל הַמְּעָרָה וְנָרְאָה שָׁכַּוּוֹנְתוֹ לְדוֹר שָׁם. וְאִיתָא בַּשַׁלְחָן עָרוּף חוֹשֶׁן וְלֵל הַשְּׁדָה, מִן הַטַּעַם דּלְקַמָּן בַּסְּמוּף. אָמְנָם לְעִינֵי הָרוֹאִים, הָיָה מוֹכִים וְנִרְאָה שֶׁכַּוּוֹנְתוֹ לְדוֹר שָׁם. וְאִיתָא בַּשַׁלְחָן עָרוּף חוֹשֶׁן מְשְׁכָּט (סִימָן קס"ג) דְּהַאִי דְּאָמְרִינַן קַנָּה בָּה בֵּית דִּירָה הָרֵי הוּא כְּאַנְשֵׁי הָעִיר מִיָּד. יֵשׁ אוֹמְרִים דְּבָעִינַן שֶׁקְנָה דַּוְקָא לְהִשְׁכַּקע, וְיֵשׁ אוֹמְרִים אֲפִילוּ לָגוּר.

The first thing intended was that it wasn't enough for Abraham to buy a little ground in order to bury Sarah alone. Instead, he wanted to buy the entire cave and the entire field, from the top to the bottom. In fact, to the eyes of the observers, this appeared to be proof that his intent was to dwell there. It's brought in the Choshen Mishpat section of the Shulchan Aruch 163:2 that if someone buys an apartment house, he is immediately considered one of the city residents. There are those who say that is the case only if he bought it to settle there, or that we know that his intent is to settle; and there are those who say that is the case even if his intent is only to live there temporarily.

king over us." The next two words are a compound noun in Scripture, "[2] a prince of [3] G-d," but the Midrash interprets them separately, as though the Hittites said, "[2] you are a prince [or a chief] over us," and "[3] a god over us."

² I.e., if one is greedy and tries to take too much, he may end up with nothing. But if one is reasonable and tries to take a modest amount, he will be more likely to succeed.

וְהָנֵּה אַבְרָהָם הָיָה יְרֵא פֶּן הַבְּנֵי חֵת יאׁמְרוּ לוֹ שֶׁאֵינָם רוֹצִים שֶׁיִּקְנֶה שָׁם קַרְקַע, כְּדֵי שֶׁלֹּא יִהְיֶה כְּאַנְשֵׁי הָעִיר. וּמְשׁוּם הַכִּי, אָמֵר לְהָם אָם הָּרְצוּ, כְּלוֹמֵר אָם הַמִּנְהָג שֶׁלֶּכֶם הוּא לְפִי הַסְּבָרָא דְּבְעִינַן דְּוְקָא לְהִשְׁתַּקַע, הְבִינִי גַּר. כְּלוֹמֵר אָב הַמִּנְהָג שֶׁלֶּכֶם הוּא לְפִי הַסְּבָרָא דְּבְעִינַן דְּוְקָא לְהִשְׁתַּקַע, הְבִינִוּ שֶׁאַהָּם נוֹהְגִים כְּסְבָרַת לְקנוֹת הַקַּרְקע עַל מְנַת לָגוּר, וּבַהָּכִי לֹא אָהְיָה בְּחָזְקת אַנְשֵׁי הָעִיר לְעוֹלְם. וְאָם לֹא תִּרְצוּ—דְּהַיְינוּ שֻׁאַהָּם נוֹהְגִים כְּסְבָּרַת הַיֵּצֹי אוֹמְרִים דְּאָפִילוּ לֹא קַנָּה אָלָּא עַל מְנַת לָגוּר, הָרֵי הוּא כְּאַנְשֵׁי הָעִיר מִיָּד, וּבִשְׁבִיל זֶה אֵין אַהֶּם רוֹצִים לְמְכּוֹר לִי—אָז אַדְרַבָּא אָהְיָה תּוֹשֶׁב וְאֶפְּלֶנְּה מִן הַדִּין.

Here, Abraham was afraid lest the sons of Heth would say to him that they didn't want him to buy the land there, because they didn't want him to be considered immediately like one of the people of the city. For this reason, he said to them, "if you want to sell me the land," that is to say, if your custom is according to the intent the buyer has of settling, then I will regard myself as a stranger and will pay for it. That is, I stipulate to buy the land on the condition to live here only temporarily, but I won't be considered like the people of the city forever. If even though I've disclaimed my desire to settle here, you still do not want to sell the land to me—that is, that you follow those who say that even if one buys an apartment only with the intent to live there temporarily, that he is still considered like one of the city residents immediately, and because of this you don't want to sell to me—then I really will consider myself a settler and will take it by force of the law due a settler.

ּדָאִיתָא הַתָּם בַּשֵּׁלְחָן עָרוּדְ הַנַּ"ל (סִימָן קנ"ו) מִי שֶׁרוֹצֶה לֵילֵדְ לְדוֹר בְּעִיר אַחֶּרֶת וְלִיתֵּן מַס וְלֹהְיוֹת בְּצֶחָד מִבְּנֵי הָעִיר, יֵשׁ אוֹמְרִים שֶׁהָרְשׁוּת בְּיָדוֹ לָדוּר בְּאֵיזֶה מָקוֹם שֶׁיִּרְצֶה. וְיֵשׁ חוֹלְקִים וְאוֹמְרִים שֶׁיְכוֹלִין לְמְחוֹת בְּיָדוֹ אַנְשֵׁי אוֹתָה הָעִיר, מִטַּעַם שָׁמָּא הַמֶּלֶדְ יִרְבֶּה עֲלֵיהֶם הַמַּס בְּשֶׁרוֹאֶה שֶׁהֶם הַרְבֵּה דִּיוּרִים. ועיי"ש, שֶׁנְרְאֶה מִבָּאן דְּאִי לָאו מִטַּעַם הַמַּס, כּוּלֵי עָלְמָא מוֹדוּ שֶׁהָרְשׁוּת בַּיָּד הָאָדָם לָדוּר בְּאֵיזָה מָקוֹם שֵׁיִּרְצֶה.

As stated there in the Shulchan Aruch, Choshen Mishpat 156:7, regarding one who wishes to go to sojourn in a different city and to give taxes and to be like one of the city residents, there are those who say he has the right to sojourn in any place that he wants. But there are those who disagree and say that the people of the city are able to prevent him from sojourning there, for the reason that perhaps the king will increase the tax upon them when he sees that that they comprise many residents. See there for more details, as it appears from this section that if not for the possibility of a higher tax, the entire world would acknowledge that the person could sojourn in whichever place he wants.

ּוְאָז בִּימֵי אַבְרָהָם, לֹא הָיָה עֲדַיִין חָשַׁשׁ זֶה בָּעוֹלָם שֶׁהַמְּלָכִים יַטִּילוּ עוֹל מַס כְּבֵד עַל אַנְשֵׁי מְדִינָתָם. וְעוֹד בְּלֹא זֶה, בְּשְׁלָמָא בָּאָדָם אַהַר יֵשׁ שֻׁאַם יָבוֹא אָחָד לָדוּר בְּכָאן הַיּוֹם, גַּם לַמָּחָר יָבוֹאוּ אֲחַרִים וְיִתְרַבּוּ הַדִּיוּרִים וַיָּבֹא נֶזֶק לְבְנֵי הַעִיר. אִי נְבֵי הַעִּיר וֹמִשְׁפַּחְתּוֹ שֶׁל אוֹתוֹ הַבָּא לֵגוּר וּבִרְבוֹת הַיָּמִים תִּהְיֶה מִשְׁפַּחְתּוֹ לַנֶּזֶק לְבְנֵי הָבִייהָם שֶׁל אַנְשִׁי הָעִיר. אָם כֵּן הַבָּנִים שֶׁיּּהִיוּ לוֹ יִהְיוּ הָם בְּעַלִי הָאָרֶץ, וְהָאָרֶץ הַוֹּאת, אִם כֵּן הַבָּנִים שֶׁיּהִיוּ לוֹ יִהְיוּ הָם בְּעַלִי הָאָרֶץ, וְהָאָרֶץ הַוֹּאת, אִם כֵּן הַבָּנִים שֶׁיּהִיוּ לוֹ יִהְיוּ הָשִלי הָאָרֶץ, וְהָאָרֶץ הַהֹּא לְדוּר שְׁלָה הַבְּנִים יִהְיוּ יְכוֹלִים לְנָרֶשׁ אֶת אַנְשֵׁי הָעִיר אִם יִרְצוּ. אִם כֵּן אֵין שׁוּם מָקוֹם לְמְחוֹת בְּאַבְרָהָם שֶׁלֹּא יָבֹא לְדוּר בְּאוֹ הַצְּיִים יִהְיוּ יִכוֹלִים לְנָרֶשׁ אֶת אַנְשֵׁי לְאֲנְשִׁים הָאֲחָרִים אִם יָבוֹאוּ לְדוּר בְּאוֹ הַבְּיִם הִיּיִוּרִים בְּמוֹ שֶׁיִשׁ רִיבּוּי הַדִּיּרִים בְּמוֹ שֶׁיֵשׁ לְאֲנְשִׁים הָאֲהָרִים אִם יִבוֹאוּ לְדוּר בְּאוּ לְשָׁאִין בּוֹ חְשְׁשׁׁ רִיבּוּי הַדִּיּרִים בְּמוֹ שְׁיֵשׁ לְאֲנְשִׁים הָאֲהָרִים אִם יִבוֹאוֹ לְיְאָרִי בּּאוֹ הַבְּיִם הִיּיִרִים בְּמוֹ שֶׁישׁ לְצָּנְשִׁים הָאָּהָרִים אִם יִבוֹא לְשָׁאִין בּוֹ חְשְׁשׁ רִיבּוּי הַדִּיּרִים בְּמוֹ שֶׁיֵשׁ לְצֵּישִׁים הָאָבְרָשְׁה הוֹאִיל שָׁצִין בּוֹ חְשְׁשׁׁ בְּיִבְיִּיִים בְּמִוֹם לְמְחוֹת בְּאַרְים בְּמוֹ שֶּיֵשׁ לְבָּוֹים לְאֲנְשִׁים בְּיִם בְּיִבּים בְּיִבּים בְּיִבְּים יִּיִבּים יִּיִּיִין בְּיִּן בְּבִּים בְּיִיוֹים בְּיִבּיִין הָּיִיִּיִּים בְּמִלְיִים בְּעִילִים בְּיִבְיִים בְּיִבְּיִים יִים בִּיבְים בְּיִים בְּיִבּיִים בְּיִים בְּיִבְים בְּיִבְּיִים בְּיִים בְּיִבְים בְּיִבּילִים בְּנְבִים בְּעָבְישׁ בְּבְּים בְּבְּיִרְים בִּים בְּיִים בְּיִבְּיִם בְּיְחִים בְּבְּבְּרָה בְּיִבְים בְּבִּיים בְּיִבּים בְּעִים בְּיִּים בְּיִבְים בְּיִבְים בְּעִבְשׁי בְּבְּים בְּבְיִם הְיִים בְּיִבּים בְּיִבְּים בְּיבְּים בְּיִים בְּיִים בְּבִּים בְּיִים בְּיִּים בְּיִים בְּבְּבִים בְּיִּים בְּיִים בְּיִים ב

Thus, in the days of Abraham, there was not yet a fear in the world that kings would place a heavy yoke of taxes on the people of their lands. But even without this fear of higher taxes, it is certain that a different type of person living in such a city could have a fear that if someone were to come to sojourn there in his place today, that others would come tomorrow and the habitations would multiply and cause damage to the city residents. Or also an inhabitant might worry about effects beyond his own lifetime, e.g., that the seed and family of the one coming to live there would multiply, and with the passing of days, the [newcomer's] family will cause harm to the sons and grandsons of the city residents. Indeed, now that G-d had said to Abraham, "to your seed I will give this land" (Gen. 12:7), it follows that the sons that he will have will be masters of the land, and the land will be theirs. So contrary to the belief of some current residents that they are in control, the sons of Abraham would be able to expel the city residents in the future, if they want. If so, there's no room to prevent Abraham from coming to sojourn there, since there's no fear about the increase of residents, as there would be for other people if they come to sojourn there.³

ּוְזֶהוּ שֶׁאָמֵר אַבְרָהָם גַּר־וְתוֹשָׁב אָנֹכִי עִמֶּכֶם, שֶׁיֵּשׁ לִי כֹּחַ לְהִיוֹת תּוֹשֶׁב הָעִיר כְּמוֹכֶם, עִמָּכֶם מַמָּשׁ. וּכְנֶגֶד סְבָרָא זוֹ, הֵשִׁיבוּ כִּי אֵין אָנוּ יְכוֹלִים לְמְחוֹת בְּךְ שֶׁלֹּא תָּדוּר בֵּינֵינוּ מִיִּרְאַת הַמֵּס, שֶׁאַדְרַבָּא אָם אַתָּה הָיִיתָ תּוֹבֵעַ הַמַּס מִמֶּנּוּ, הָיִינוּ חַיִּיבִים לִיתֵּן לְדָּ, הוֹאִיל שֶׁמֶּלֶךְ אַתְּ עָלִינוּ.

This is why Abraham said, "I am a stranger and a settler among you," that I have the power to be a settler of the land like you, precisely with you. In response to this understanding, they answered him, we are not able to prevent you from sojourning amongst us out of fear of tax; to the contrary, if you had been a claimant of the tax from us, we would be obliged to give it to you, because you are king over us.

³ I.e., with other newcomers, the city residents might be able to resist their settlement out of fear of damage their offspring will cause in the future. But with Abraham, it's already decreed that his offspring will rule the land, so it is pointless to try to keep him out. This assumes that the Hittites knew that G-d had made that promise to Abraham, but it seems from their response, "you are the elect of G-d among us," that they did have that knowledge.

B. Abraham wanted a suitable family plot, and a large crowd at the funeral.

ָהַעָנָיַן הַשֵּׁנִי דָהוֹאִיל דָקַיָּמָא לָן נוֹחַ לוֹ לָאַדָם לָהָקַבֶּר אָצֵל אֲבוֹתַיו, כָּדָאִיתַא בַּשַּׁלְחַן עַרוּךְ יוֹרֵה דַּעַה (סִימַן שס"ג).

The second thing intended is that it is comfortable for a person to be buried besides his forefathers, as brought in the Yoreh De'ah section of the Shulchan Aruch (363:2, in the gloss of the Rema).⁴

ָהָיָה מְתִייֵרֵא אַבְרָהָם פֶּן יאׁמְרוּ לוֹ בְּנֵי חֵת שֶׁיּוֹלִיךְ לִקְבּוֹר אֶת שָׂרָה אֵצֶל אֲבוֹתֶיהָ וְגַם הוּא יִקְבֶּר שָׁם אַחַר מוֹתוֹ, וּבְזֶה יִהְיוּ נִקְבָּרִים יַחַד וְאֵצֶל אֲבוֹתֵיהָם, וּמָה לוֹ לִתְבּוֹעַ לְהִקָּבֵר שָׁם. וְלָכֵן מִתְּחַלָּה אָמֵר לָהֶם שֶׁהוּא גֵּר, דְּהַיְינוּ שֶׁהָיָה נָכְרִי וְנָתְגַיֵּיר, שֶׁבְּנִדָּאי אֵינוֹ יָכוֹל לִילֵךְ בְּקְבָרֵי אֲבוֹתָיו. וְזֶה יִהְיֶה הַדִּין לְכָל הַגָּרִים שֶׁיִתגַיֵירוּ: שֶׁצָרִיךְ שֶׁיַקְנוּ קַרְקַע לְהִקְּבֵר שָׁם, הַגֵּר עִם כָּל הַמִּשְׁפָּחָה שֶׁלוֹ שֶׁיָבוֹאוּ אַחַר כָּךְ מַמְנוּ.

Abraham was afraid lest the sons of Heth would say to him that he should go bury Sarah besides her forefathers and that he should also be buried there after his death (so in this way, they would be buried together and next to their forefathers), and what right he had to be buried there in Hebron. Therefore, in the beginning he said to them that he was a stranger—that is a foreigner and a convert to the belief in the one true G-d—who certainly was not able to go to the graves of his forefathers. This would be the law for all the strangers who converted: that they would need to buy land to be buried there, the stranger and all the family that would come forth afterwards from him.

ּוְלָכֵן לֹא שָׁאַל אַבְרָהָם מְקוֹם כְּדֵי לִקְבּוֹר שָׁרָה בִּלְבַד, רַק תְּנוּ לִי אֲחוּזַת קֶבֶר, לַעֲשׁוֹת שָׁם בֵּית הַקְּבָרוֹת לְכָל הַמִּשְׁפָּחָה שֶׁתָּבֹא מֵהֶם, כְּמוֹ שֶׁפֵּירֵשׁ רַשִּׁ", אֲחוּזַת קְרְקע לְבִית הַקְּבָרוֹת. וְהַטַּעֵם הוּא, שֶׁאִם לֹא הָיָה לוֹקֵם אָלָּא מָקוֹם קבוּרַת שָׁרָה בָּלְבַד, אַף אָם הָיָה לוֹקֵם אַחַר כָּךְ שָׁם מָקוֹם אַחֵר לְקָבֶר שֶׁלוֹ, הַלֹּא בֵּין כָּךְ וּבֵין כָּךְ, הָיָה גְּנַאי לְשָׁרָה לִהְיוֹת נִקְבֶּרֶת שָׁם לְבַדָּה. אָמְנָם אָם הָיָה מְיִהָד מֻעַתָּה אוֹתוֹ הַמָּקוֹם וְהַקּרְקע לְבֵית הַקְּבָרוֹת שֶׁל כָּל הַמִּשְׁפָּחָה, אָז הוּא כָּבוֹד גָּדוֹל לְשָׁרָה, שֻׁיָּבוֹאוּ אָצְלָה בְּנְדָאי בַּעְלָה וּבָנִיהָ, שֶׁהָבִי בְּנָבִית בְּקְבֶר אֶחָד צָרִיךְ לְהַתְּחִיל.

Therefore, Abraham didn't ask for a place to bury Sarah alone, rather he said, "give me a burial estate," to create there a cemetery for all the family that would come from them, as Rashi explained on Gen. 23:4, an estate of land for a cemetery. The feeling was that if he were to take a place of burial only for Sarah alone, even if he would afterwards take there a different place for his own grave, between this time of buying a grave for Sarah and this time for buying a grave for himself, it would be a disgrace for Sarah to be buried there alone. In fact, if he were to initially designate the same place and the land for a cemetery of the entire family, that would be a great honor for Sarah, to establish with certainty that her husband and her sons would be buried there beside her. In such a case, it is certain that one grave is needed to start a cemetery, i.e., either way, only one burial was needed at the time, but whereas a designation of a lone, isolated burial would be a disgrace, a designation of a new family burial estate would be an honor.

⁴ The Shulchan Aruch, Yoreh De'ah, 363:2, authored by Rabbi Joseph Karo, gives the ruling following by Sephardim: "They do not convey a corpse from a city wherein there is a cemetery to another city, unless it is from outside the Land into the Land [of Israel]." The gloss added by Rabbi Moshe Isserles (the Rema), gives the ruling following by Ashkenazim: "Or if they convey him to the place of his ancestral sepulcher."

ְּוָהָהּוּ אָם תִּרְצוּ, הַרֵינִי גֵּר, וְאָם לָאו, אֶהָיֶה תּוֹשֶׁב וְאֶטְלֶנָּה וְכוּ'. שֶׁהָרֵי שָׂרָה בְּעַל כָּרְחוֹ צָרִיךְּ לְקוֹבְרָה כָּאוּ, הוֹאִיל שֶׁיֵשׁ בָּאוְ בִּית הַקְּבָרוֹת לְעִיר אַחֶרֶת—אֶלָּא אָם כֵּן מְחוּצָה לָאָרֶץ —כְּמוֹ שֶׁפְּסִק הַשַּׁלְחָן עָרוּךְ סִימָן הַנַּ"ל. וְבָנֶיהָ גַּם כֵן בְּנִדָּאי יִהְיוּ נִקְבָּרִים כָּאוּ, שֶׁהְרִים כָּאן, שֶׁהְרִים הָבְּיוֹם אַמַר לְזַרְעֲּךְ אֶתֵּן וְכוּ'. וְהָבֵי הָפִּלִים שֶׁל הָאָרֶץ, וְבָנִיהָ גַּם כֵן בְּנִדָּאי יִהְיוּ נִקְבָּרִים כָּאן, שֶׁהְרִים הָּאָרָ הַלְּהַבְּי בְּמְקוֹם אַחֵר, יִהְיֶה גְּנַאי לְאִשְׁתִּי וּבָנֵי. וּגְנַאי אַף לִי, וְכָל הַקּוֹשׁי שֶׁלֶּכֶם אֵינוֹ נוֹפֵל אֶלָא עַל קֶבֶר שֶׁלָי. וְאִם אֲנִי אֶהְיֶה נִקְבָּר בְּמְקוֹם אַחֵר, יִהְיֶה גְּנַאי לְאִשְׁתִּי וּבָנִי. וּגְנַאי אַף לִי, שְׁהָאשׁׁה דַּעְתָּה לְהָקַבֵּר אָצֵל בַּעַלָּה וּבָנִיהָ.

So now we can understand the intent of "if you want to sell me the land, I will regard myself as a stranger and will pay for it, but if you do not want to sell it to me, I will regard myself as a settler and claim it as a legal right." Sarah perforce has to be buried here, as there is a cemetery here, and as we don't conduct the dead from one city in which there is a cemetery to another city (except that it is permitted to move the dead from outside the Land of Israel to within the Land of Israel), as the Shulchan Aruch cited above decreed. Her sons would certainly also be buried there, because the Holy One, Blessed be He, said, "Unto your seed I will give this land." Abraham was thinking, "They will be the masters of the land, and all of their difficulties would fall only upon my grave," i.e., that my descendants will come to my grave to pray to G-d. "If I will be buried in a different place, it will be disgraceful to my wife and my sons. It will be disgraceful also to me, that my wife's desire was to be buried besides her husband and sons, but that her desire was not met."

ּוְעַיֵּין בַּשֵּׁלְחָן עָרוּךְ שָׁם (שס"ו), וְעוֹד שָׁם הַמּוֹכֵר קַבְרוֹ, בָּאִים בְּנֵי הַמִּשְׁפָּחָה וְנוֹטְלִים אוֹתוֹ בַּזְּרוֹעַ, לְפִי שֶׁגְנַאי הוּא לָהֶם שֶׁבְּנֵי הַמִּשְׁפָּחָה לֹא יִהִיוּ קְבוּרִים בְּמָקוֹם אֶחָד. וְעַיֵּין שָׁם בְּשַׁ"ךְּ וְכֵן הוּא בַּגְּמָרָא דְּכְתוּבוֹת (דַּף פּ"ד) מִשׁוּם פְּגָם מִשְׁפָּחָה. וְזֶהוּ שֶׁהוֹסִיף אַבְרָהָם תְּנוּ לִי, דְּמֵשְׁמֵע לְעַצְמִי, אֲחוּזַת קֶבֶר דְּהַיִּנוּ אֲחוּזַת קַרָקע וְכוּ'.

See there in the Shulchan Aruch (Yoreh De'ah, 366:1), that regarding one who sells his family's grave, his family members come and take it by force,⁵ because it is disgraceful for them that the members of a family will not be buried in one place. See there the commentary of the Shach,⁶ and similarly in the Gemara of Ketubot (page 84a), because it would be a blot on the family for strangers to be buried in their family plot, while they would have to be buried elsewhere. This is why Abraham added "give me," the meaning being "for myself," a burial estate that is an estate of land, etc.

⁵ Shulchan Aruch, Yoreh De'ah, 366:1: "One who sells his family grave, the path to his grave, the place of where his funeral would halt, and the place of his lamentation—the members of the family may come and bury him against the will of the buyer, and they return the purchase money to the buyer."

⁶ Rabbi Shabtai ben Meir HaCohen (1621–62), European posek (decisor) and commentator on the Talmud, called "the Shach" after his work, Siftei Cohen (שפתי כהן), (Krakow 1646) a famous commentary on the Yoreh De'ah section of the Shulchan Aruch.

וּכְנֶגֶד סְבָרָא זוֹ הַשִּׁיבוּ לוֹ, נָשִׂיא אַתְּ עָלֵינוּ, דְּמָצִינוּ שֶׁפֶּסַק הָרַמְבַּ״ם (בַּפֶּרֶק ג' מֵהּלְכוֹת אָבֵל). נָשִׂיא שֶׁמֵּת הַכּּל מְיטַמְאִין לוֹ, הַכָּל אוֹנְנִין עָלָיו, אֲפִילוּ נְזִירִים, אֲפִילוּ כֹּהְנִים, מִפְּנֵי שֶׁהַכֹּל חַיָּיבִים בִּכְבוֹדוֹ עכ"ל. אִם כֵּן, אָנוּ חַיָּיבִים בִּכְבוֹדְךְ וְאַף בָּכְבוֹד שָּׂרָה, מִשׁוּם דְאֵשֶׁת חָבֵר הָרֵי הִיא כֶּחָבֵר. וּבְזֶה אֶתִּי שָׁפִיר מָה שֶׁפֵירֵשׁ רַשִׁ"י עַל פָּסוּק לְכֹל בָּאֵי שַׁעַר־עִירוֹ, שֶׁכּוּלְּם בַּטְלוּ מִמְלֵאכָתַּם וּבַאוּ לִגִמוּל חָסֶד לִשַּׂרָה, לְפִי שֵׁיִּהִיוּ הַכֹּל אוֹנְנִים עַלֵיהַ.

In response to this understanding, they answered him, "you are a prince over us," as we find in the ruling of the Rambam in the Mishneh Torah (in the laws of the mourner, third chapter, halacha 10). He writes, "If a prince dies, all can make themselves impure to bury him, making themselves mourners because of him—even a Nazirites, even priests who generally should avoid the ritual impurity that comes from contact with the dead—because all are obliged in the honor [of the prince]." The Hittites were therefore saying, "If so, we are obliged in honoring you and even in honoring Sarah, because the wife of a person is considered like that person." In this, everything is all right, as Rashi explained on the verse Gen. 23:10–11, which reads: "Ephron was present among the Hittites; so Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the hearing of the Hittites, all who entered the gate of his city, saying, 'No, my lord, hear me: I give you the field and I give you the cave that is in it; I give it to you in the presence of my people. Bury your dead." With regard to "all who entered the gate of his city, Rashi said, following Gen. Rabbah 58:7, "For they all left their work and came to pay their last respect to Sarah," because everyone was a mourner for her.

C. Abraham wanted his spiritual and physical right to the Land to be recognized.

הָעִנְיָן הַשְּׁלִישִׁי שֶׁעָלָיו הַשִּׁיבוּ, אֱלוֹהַ אַתְּ עָלֵינוּ. הוּא לָשׁוֹן תָּמוּהַ, שֶׁזֶּה וַדַּאי אֵינוֹ מוּבָן כִּפְשׁוּטוֹ, דְּחַס וְשָׁלוֹם שֶׁאֵירַע לְאוֹתוֹ צַדִּיק כָּך, שֶׁהָרֵי כְּשֵׁם שֶׁנָפְרָעִין מִן הָעוֹבֵד כָּךְ נִפְרָעִין מִן הַנֶּעֲבָד. וְיַעֲלְב לֹא רָצָה לֹהִיוֹת נָקָבֵר בְּמִצְרִיִם כְּדֵי שֶׁלֹא יַעֲשׁוּהוּ עַבוֹדָה זָרָה.

The third thing is that the Hittites replied to Abraham with strange language, viz, "you are a god over us." This is certainly not to be understood as in the plain meaning, G-d forbid, that they viewed him as a deity. That's something that later happened to a particular righteous person, Jacob, that "just as retribution is exacted from the idol worshipper, so too retribution is exacted from the idol that is worshipped" (Gen. Rabbah 96:5; also Yerushalmi Chagigah 8b). Thus, Jacob didn't want to be buried in Egypt so that the [Egyptians] wouldn't make him the object of idol worship.⁸

⁷ Our text of the Mishneh Torah, Mourning, 3:10 does not mention the Nazarite and is ordered differently: "[Regarding] a prince who dies, everyone can make himself impure for him, even a priest. [Everyone] makes himself like one performing the mitzvah of burying the dead, because everyone is obliged to honor him."

⁸ This is Rashi's comment to Gen. 47:29.

אָמָנֶם כָּתַב הַכְּלִי יָקֶר בְּפָּרָשַׁת לֵךְּ לְדְּ, דִּשְׁנֵי קְנְיָנִים הָיָה צָרִיךְּ בְּאֶרֶץ יִשְׂרָאֵל. הָראשׁוֹן הוּא רוּחָנִי דְּהַיְינוּ לְהִדָּבֵק נֶפֶשׁ הָאָדָם בְּקְדוּשַׁת מַאָצִילוֹ, וְזָה עָשָׂה אַבְרָהָם בִּרְאִיֵּית עֵינִיו, דְכְתִיב כִּי אֶת־כְּלֹ־הָאָרֶץ אֲשֶׁר־אַתָּה רֹאָה לְּדְּ אֶתְנְנָה וּלְזַרְעֲךְּ עַד־עוֹלָם. בְּקְדוּשָׁה זוֹ מֵעוֹלָם לֹא נֶאֶבְדָה, כִּי קְדוּשְׁתָן אַף כְּשֶׁהֵם שׁוֹמְמִים. וּבַקּנְיָן זֶה הָרוּחָנִי זָכָה בּוֹ אַבְרָהָם מִיָּד, שֶׁהָרִי אָמֵר לוֹ הקב"ה שָׁא נָא עֵינֶיךְ וּרְאֵה מִן־הַמָּקוֹם אֲשֶׁר־אַתָּה שָׁם. וְלֹא מַשְׁמִע מִיָּד, אָמְנֶם בַּקּנְיָן הַגּוּפָנִי לֹא מָצִינוּ שֻׁזָּכָה בּוֹ הוּא, אָלָּא בָּנֶיו יִזְכּוּ בּוֹ וְכוּי.

Actually, the Keli Yekar⁹ writes on parshat Lech Lecha (Gen. 12:1–17:27), specifically on the verse Gen. 13:17, that two types of qualities were needed for the Land of Israel. The first quality was spiritual so that the soul of the man would cling to the holiness of His majesty, and this Abraham did in seeing [the land] with his eyes, as it says, "For I give all the land that you see to you and your offspring forever" (Gen. 13:15). This holiness will never be lost, because [destroyed sanctuaries] "are holy even in though they are desolate." Abraham merited this spiritual acquisition immediately, as the Holy One, Blessed be He, said to him, "Raise your eyes and look out from where you are, to the north and south, to the east and west" (Gen. 13:14). The second quality was physical, but the meaning of the next verse with regard to the physical ownership, "For I give all the land that you see to you and your offspring forever" is that it does not happen immediately. In fact, we don't find that he merited the tangible acquisition, rather the meaning was "your sons will merit it, etc."

וּמֵעַתָּה אָמַר אַבְרָהָם אִם תִּרְצוּ, הַרֵינִי גֵּר, אַף עַל פִּי שֶׁיֵשׁ לִי צָד סְבָרָא לוֹמֵר הוֹאִיל שֶׁהִתְפַּסתִּי הַקְּדוּשָׁה בָּאָרֶץ, עַל כָּרְחַךְּ צָרִיךְ לוֹמֵר שֶׁהקב"ה נִתְרַצֶּה שֶׁאֶקְנָה אוֹתָה נָמִי בְּקנְיָן גּוּפָנִי. דְּאִי לָאו הָכִי, לֹא הָיָה בִּי כֹּחַ לְהִתְבַּיֵּה שְׁאָקְנָה אוֹתָה נָמִי בְּקנִין גּוּפָנִי. דְּאִי לָאו הָכִי, לֹא הָיָה בִּקְעוֹתִי מְקוֹם הַקֶּבֶר כְּמוֹ גֵּר, וְאִם לָאו, אֶהְיֶה תּוֹשֶׁב וְכוּ', שָׁהָרִי אָמֵר לִי לְזַרְעֲךְּ אָתֵּן וְכוּּ'.

So for now Abraham said, "'If you want to sell me the land, I will regard myself as a stranger and will pay for it,' even though I separately have an understanding that would allow me to say that since I seized the holiness in the land, it must necessarily be said that the Holy One, Blessed be He, wants me to also acquire it in a physical acquisition. Because if G-d did not also want me to have physical possession, I would not have the power to grasp the holiness there, because a man does not consecrate something that is not his. Therefore, I am prepared to purchase (with my funds) a burial place like a stranger, but if not, I will be a settler and take it by law, as [G-d] said to me, "Unto your seed I will give . . ." (Gen. 12:7).

⁹ Shlomo Ephraim ben Aaron Luntschitz (1550 –1619), rabbi of Prague (1604-19), best known for his Torah commentary, Keli Yekar. On Gen. 13:17, he writes, "It seems to me from all this that one can say, that the Holy One gave the land to Abraham in order that he acquire there two types of benefit. The first is spiritual, and is acquired simply through seeing. The other is physical and is acquired through marking out its boundaries."

¹⁰ Mishnah Megillah 3:3 (and Megillah 28a): Rabbi Yehuda teaches also, that no funeral orations may be delivered in a synagogue which had become ruinous, nor may it be used as a rope-walk, nor to spread nets therein [to dry], nor to spread fruit on its roof, nor to use it as a short cut, as it is said (Lev. 26:31), "I will bring your sanctuaries into desolation," that is, they remain sanctuaries even in their desolation.

ּוְעֵינֵינוּ הָרוֹאוֹת שֶׁלֹכְאוֹרָה הַבְטָחָה זוֹ אֵין בָּה מַמָּשׁ, שֶׁהְרֵי אֵין אָדָם מַקְנָה לְמִי שֶׁלֹא בָּא לְעוֹלָם, וְאַף הָאָב לְבְנוֹ אִם אֵין אִשְׁתּוֹ כְּבָר מְעוּבֶּרֶת. וְאָם כֵּן, מָה יוֹעִיל הקב"ה בְּהַבְטָחָתוֹ? וְאַבְרָהָם עַצְמוֹ, לָמָה בָּנָה מִיָּד מִזְבֵּח עַל בְּשׁוּרַת אֶרֶץ יִשְׂרָאֵל? כְּמוֹ שָׁפֵירֵשׁ רַשִׁ"י פָּרָשַׁת לֵךְּ לְדָּ, אֶלָא וִדָּאי צָרִידְּ לוֹמֵר שֶׁרָצָה לוֹמֵר לִי שָׁאַקְנָה אֲנִי עַל מְנַת לְהַקְנוֹת לְבָנִי, וְשָׁפִיר יֵשׁ לִי זְכוּת וְקִנָין בָּאָרֶץ גָּמוּר. וְאָתֵי שַׁפִּיר דְּאִיתָא מּוּחָזֶקֶת לְנוּ מֵאֲבוֹתִינוּ.

Our eyes see that apparently this promise that Abraham's children would possess the Land of Israel wasn't concrete at that time, because a man doesn't transfer ownership to someone who never existed, and even a father doesn't [transfer ownership] to his son if his wife isn't already pregnant. If so, what would be the purpose of the Holy One, Blessed be He, in making His promise? As for Abraham himself, why did he immediately build an altar upon entering the Land of Israel in thanksgiving for the good tidings of the promise that his children would possess the Land of Israel? As Rashi explained on the parsha Lech Lecha, for verse Gen. 12:7, it certainly must be said that Abraham's thinking was that "[G-d] intended to say to me that I should acquire a portion to bestow to my sons, and it's good that I have the merit and good that we will have complete acquisition in the Land," both spiritual and tangible. It's fine that it says "the Land of Israel is a holding for us from our fathers," i.e., the Land is considered as though it was already in possession of one who was entitled to a portion of the land, even before the land was formally assigned to that person. 13

ְּוָהָא דַּאָמַר לְזַרְעַדּ, דְּמַשְׁמַע לְזָרְעִי וְלֹא לִי, הַיִּינוּ שֶׁאָז כְּשֶׁיִּהִיוּ בָּנֵי מְרוּבִּים יְגָרֵשׁ אֶת יוֹשְׁבֵי הָאָרֶץ מִפְּנֵיהָם. מָה שֶׁאֵין כֵּן עַתָּה שֶׁאָנִי יָחִיד, פֶּן תִּהְיֶה הָאָרֶץ שְׁמָמָה. וְזָהוּ שֶׁסִּיִים, וְאֶקְבְּרָה אֶת מֵתִי מִלְפָנָי. דְּהַיִינוּ מִטַעַם לְפָנַי, שֶׁהקְדַּשְׁתִּי כָּל מַה שֶׁהָיָה לְפַנֵי, כְּדָכְתִיב שֵׂא נַא עֵינֵידְ וּרָאָה מָן־הַמַּקוֹם אֲשֵׁר־אַתַּה שֶׁם, צַפּוֹנַה וְנַגִבָּה וְכוּיִ

It says "to your seed" (Gen. 12:7), and the meaning to Abraham was: "to my seed but not to me," i.e., that when my sons will be many, they will force out the inhabitants of the Land from before them. That won't happen now while I am a sole individual, lest the Land become desolate. This is the conclusion of our verse, "that I may bury my dead from before me" (Gen. 23:4). That is the intent of the words, "from before me," that I have sanctified all that is before me, as it is written in Gen. 13:14, "Raise your eyes and look out from where you are, to the north and south, to the east and west."

¹¹ Shulchan Aruch, Choshen Mishpat, 210:1.

¹² Gen. 12:7: "The L-rd appeared to Abram and said, 'I will assign this land to your offspring.' And he built an altar there to the L-rd who had appeared to him." Rashi's commentary: "[Abraham built the altar] in thanksgiving for the good tidings that he would have children, and for the good tidings that they would possess the land of Israel."

¹³ This adage, found, e.g., in Or Torah (Lublin, 1672), by Uri ben David ben Moses Kolmayer, has its source in Bava Batra 119a: "Rabba says: the Land of Israel is a possession," relating to the inheritance of the daughters of Zelophehad (Num. 27:7) of the portion of the firstborn due their father.

ְּוַעַל זֶה הַשִּׁיבוּ לוֹ, אֱלוֹהַ אַתְּ עָלֵינוּ, כְּלוֹמֵר אָנוּ מוֹדִים שֶׁיֵשׁ לְךָּ כֹּחַ וּזְכוּת גָּדוֹל בָּאָרֶץ הוֹאִיל שֶׁהְפַּסתְּ בָּה הָרוּחָנִיּוּת וְהַדְּבָּקַת נַפְשִׁרָ הָשְׁדָה נָתַתִּי לָךְּ, דְּהַיִּינוּ שֶׁיֵשׁ לְךְּ רְשׁוּת לְקְנוֹת בֵּית דִּירָה וּלְהִשְׁתַּקֵע כָּאוּ וְלְהִיוֹת כָּמוֹנוּ, נַנְשְׁרָ בַּמַאְצִילְך. וְעַל זֶה, אָמַר עֶפְרוֹן הַשָּׁדָה נָתַתִּי לָךְּ, דְהַיִּינוּ שְׁיֵּשׁ לְךְּ רְשׁוּת לְקְנוֹת בֵּיְעִתְּהְ לְבְּ נְתַתִּיהָ, שֶׁתְּהֵא לַאֲחוּזַת קֶבֶר לְבְנֵי מִשְׁכּּחְתְּדְּ, וְעוֹד לְעֵינֵי בְנִי־עַמִּי נְתַתִּיהָ, לְדְּ נְתַתִּיהָ, שֶׁתְּהַא לָבְי לְבְנִי מִשְׁכָּחְתְּךְ וְעוֹד לְעִינֵי בְּרְאָיִית עֵינֶיךְ, אֶלָּא אַף הַגּוּפְנִיּוֹת שֶׁהוּא מָה שֶׁרוֹאָה בְּנֵי עַמִּי, הַכֹּל הוּא שֶׁלְךָּ. לֹא דֵּי שֶׁכְּבֶר קַנִיתְ הָרוֹחָנִיּוֹת בַּרְאָיֵית עֵינֶיךְ, אֶלָּא אַף הַגּוּפְנִיּוֹת שֶׁהוּא מָה שֶׁרוֹאָה בְּנֵי עַמִּי, הַכֹּל הוּא שֶׁלְךְּ.

On this, they answered him, "you are a god over us," as if to say "we acknowledge that you have power and great merit in the Land since you have captured its spirituality and as your soul has attached to it in your nobility." On account of this, Ephron said, "I give you the field," that is, "that you have permission to purchase an apartment house and to settle here and to be like us." This was hinted at by the acquisition of the field discussed above, "and I give you the cave that is in it." That is, "that you will have a burial estate for the sons of your family," and "I give it to you in the presence of my people." As if to say, "It is not enough that you have already acquired the spiritual aspect, by seeing the Land with your eyes. Rather you will also acquire even the physical aspect, which is what the sons of your people will see. It is all yours."

* * *