Chapter XXXIII: Bechukotai (Lev. 26:3-27:34)

Essay 3. Loving the commandments and hating transgressions

פְּסוּק "אָם־בְּחֻקֹּתֵי תֵּלֶכוּ", "וְאָם־בְּחֻקֹּתִי תִּמְאָסוּ". יֵשׁ לְדַקְדֵּק מַהוּ הַכֶּפֶל שֶׁל שְׁלֹשֶׁה לְשׁוֹנוֹת בִּבְרָכוֹת, "בְּחֻקֹּתַי תֵּלְכוּ" "וְצָשִׁיתֶם אֹתָם" אָם הַכֹּל עִנְיָן אֶחָד. וּבַתּוֹבַחוֹת לֹא אָמַר לְהֶפֵּךְ "אִם־בְּחֻקֹּתִי לֹא תֵּלֵכוּ" וְכוּ', וּלֶאֶת־מִצְוֹתֵי תְּשָׁמְתוּ לִיּ וְאָם־לֹא תִשְׁמְעוּ לִי" וְאַף שֶׁם יֵשׁ [כֶּפֶל] לְשׁוֹן. וּמַהוּ "תִּמְאָסוּ" דְּנָקֵט? וּמַאי שְׁנָא שֶׁהָתְחִיל "וְאִם־לֹא תִשְׁמְעוּ לִי" וְאַף שֶׁם יֵשׁ [כֶּפֶל] לְשׁוֹן.

There are verse[s]: "If you will follow My laws and you will guard My commandments and you will fulfill them" (Lev. 26:3), "and if you will reject My laws and spurn My rules, so that you do not observe all My commandments and you break My covenant" (Lev. 26:15). We need to examine the duplication of the three terms of blessing, "If you will follow My laws," "and you will guard My commandments," and afterward it says "and you will fulfill them," if it is all one matter. And in the first group of tochachot ["rebukes"], i.e., the 49 curses threatened in Lev. 26:14–46 if Israel were not to follow G-d's commandments, it does not say the opposite, viz, "if you will not follow My laws," but rather "if you will reject My laws," and what is the precise implication of this word "if you will reject" that is used? Also, what is the distinction that begins, "But if you will not listen to Me and will not fulfill all these commandments" (Lev. 26:14), and even there is [duplicative] language, i.e., "if you will not listen to Me" and "[if you] will not fulfill."

ּוְגֵשׁ לוֹמַר שֶׁהַחוֹבָה הַמּוּטֶלֶת עַל הָאָדָם לָאֲהוֹב הַמִּצְוֹת וְלְשְׁנוֹא אֶת הָעֲבֵירוֹת, שְׁמִי שֶׁאֵין לוֹ אַהַבָה קְשׁוּרָה בְּלְבּוֹ עַם הַמִּצְוֹת, אַף אָם לֹא יְחַמֵא, עָם כֹּל זֶה לֹא יִהְיֶה לוֹ זְרִיזוּת הַמִּצְטָרֵךְ בְּקיּוּם הַמִּצְוֹת, וְאִי אֶפְשֶׁר שֶׁיָבֹא לִידִי נְקִיוֹת. וּלְהֶפֵךְ, מִי שֶׁאֵין שָׁנָאָה תִּקוּעָה בָּלְבּוֹ עִם הַעֲבֵירוֹת אֵפְשַׁר שֵׁאִיזָה פַּעַם יִפּוֹל בְּחַטָא.

It can be said that the duty is imposed on man to love the commandments and to hate the transgressions, for he who has no love bound in his heart for the commandments, even if he does not sin, nevertheless, he won't have the alacrity needed to fulfil the commandments, and it's impossible for him to achieve cleanliness of the soul. And conversely, he who does not have hatred stuck in his heart toward the transgressions may sometime fall into sin.

² The second and longer group of tochachot, which appear in Deut. 28:15–68, will be discussed later in this essay.

ּוְלָכֵן בְּקיּוּם הַמִּצְוֹת אָמַר הַכָּתוּב "אִם־בְּחֻקֹּתַי תַּלַכוּ", דְּהַיִּינוּ שֻׁיִּהְיָה לָכֶם שִׂנְאָה גְּמוּרָה עִם הַמְּצְוֹת אָמַר הַכָּתוּב "אָבְרוּ" מָלָשׁוֹן "וְאָבִיוֹ שָׁמַר אֶת־הַדָּבָר". שָׁמֵרוֹב אַהַבַּתְכֶם תִּזְדְּרְזוּ לָלֶכֶת לְקְרֵאת הַמְּצְוֹת וְלְרְדּוֹף אַחֲרִיהֶם, אָז בְּוַדֵּאי "וַצְשִׁיתָם אֹתָם" שָׁזְּרִיזוּת מְבִיאָה לִידֵי נְקיּוּת. וּלְהָפֵּךְ בַּקְּלָלוֹת אָמַר "וְאִם־לֹא תִשְׁמְעוּ לִי" לָאֱהוֹב הַמְצְוֹת וְלִשְׁנוֹא הָעֲבִירוֹת שֶׁנָה גָּרָם לָכֶם שֶׁ"וְלֹא תַעְשוּּ אֵת כְּל־הַמְּצְוֹת הָאֵלֶה". וְאַדְרַבָּא "אִם־בְּחֻקֹּתֵי תִּמְאָסוּ" שֶׁמְאסְתָּם הָבְּיְרָה הָטֵבְירוֹ שֶׁצְּפִילוּ לֹא נִכְתְּבוּ, רְאוּיִים הֵם לְהָתְקְיֵים הָם דְּבָרִים שֻׁצְפִילוּ לֹא נִכְתְּבוּ, רְאוּיִים הֵם לְהָתְקֵיִם מְּעְשׁוּ וְאֶת־חָקֹּתֵי תִּשְׁמְרוּ" וְכוּ', מְדֶּרָה הַשֶּׁבֵע וְיִישׁוּב הָעוֹלָם, כְּמוֹ שֶׁפֵּרַשׁ רַשִׁ" בְּפָרְשַׁת אַחֲרֵי מוֹת עַל כָּסוּק "אָת־מִשְׁפָּטִי תַּעְשׁוּ וְאֶת־חָקֹּתִי תִּשְׁמְרוּ" וְכוּ', "אַרִּישׁבּּר הָעוֹלָם, כְּמוֹ שֶׁפֵּרִשׁ רַשִּׁ" בְּבָּרְשׁת אַחֲרֵי מוֹת עַל כָּסוּק "אָת־מִשְׁפָּטִי תַּעְשׁוּ וְאֶת־חָקֹּתֵי תִּשְׁבִי וֹנִישׁוּ בְּבָּר הָעוֹלָם. צְמוֹ שֶׁבֵּרִשׁ בִּיִי שֵׁלֹּ לְהָרָלְלוֹ. לֹבְר לָבְעֹב לְנִישִׁר לְבַב בְּנִב לְנִי אֲעֲשֵׁה וֹאֹת לַכֵם" אֲשְׁבָּא הָנִישׁ אַתְבָּם כְּבִי שֵׁלֹא לְהָיִיב לְכִם בְּלֵל וּכְלָל.

Therefore, in the fulfillment of the commandments, Scripture said "If you will follow My laws," which is that you will have a complete hatred for transgressions, and further, that vou will bind in your hearts a complete love for the commandments "and you will guard My commandments," from the language of the verse following Joseph's telling his father and brother of his dreams, "So his brothers were wrought up at him, and his father kept in mind the matter" (Gen. 37:11). I.e., both "guard My commandments" of Lev. 26:3 and "kept in mind" of Gen. 37:11 use the verb with the root שמר. For from your great love you will hurry towards the commandments and to chase after them, so certainly "you will fulfill them," for "alactrity brings one to cleanliness of the soul." Conversely, in the curses of the tochacha it says, "But if you will not listen to Me" to love the commandments and to hate the transgressions, for this leads you so that "you will not fulfill all these commandments." To the contrary, "if you will reject My laws," [means] that you reject the good path and the commandments, and even "spurn my rules," that the rules are things that are not even written, but were worthy of being established from the way of nature and the settlement of the world. This is as Rashi interpreted in the parsha Acharei Mot on the verse, "My rules you shall fulfill, and my laws you shall guard, to follow them: I the L-rd am your G-d" (Lev. 18:4), that if you reject the commandments and spurn my rules, "I in turn will do this to you" (Lev. 26:16), i.e., I will hate you in order not to do you any good at all.4

וְהַטַּעַם שֶׁהַקְּלָלוֹת בְּתוֹרַת כֹּהָנִים הֵם מ"ט וּבֶבִּי־תָבוֹא הֵם צ"ח, לְפִי שֶׁבֶּכִּי־תָבוֹא נִכְנָסוּ בִּכְלָל הָאֲרֵבוּת, דְּהַיְינוּ לְהִתְחַיֵּיב אֶחָד עַל חֲבֵירוֹ. דְּמִטַעַם זֶה אָמַר מֹשֶׁה הַתּוֹכֵחוֹת בְּלָשׁוֹן יָחִיד וְלֹא בְּלָשׁוֹן רַבִּים כְּאוֹתָם שֶׁל תּוֹרַת כֹּהָנִים כְּמוֹ שֶׁבֶּתְבוּ הַמִּפַרְשִׁים לוֹמַר שֵׁיִּקְבֵּל עַל עַצָמוֹ אַף עַל חֲבֵירוֹ.

And the reason that the curses in the Torat Kohanim ["the teachings of the priests"], viz, the tochachot of the Book of Leviticus, are 49 and in parshat Ki Tavo in Deut. 28:15–68 they are exactly double, 98, is because in Ki Tavo they entered into the rule of the guarantorship, 5 that is, for one to be obligated on behalf of his fellow. For this reason, Moses pronounced the tochachot in Deut. 28:15–68 in the singular language and not in the plural language like those of Torat Kohanim, viz, Lev. 26:14–46, as the commentators wrote to say that he would accept upon himself even that [punishment] of his fellow.

ּוּבְדֶּרֶךְ זוֹ יוּבַן הַקֶּשֶׁר שֶׁל הַפָּסוּק "חָקְרֵנִי אֵל וְדַע לְבָבִי" עִם הַפָּסוּק הַקּוֹדֵם "הַלוֹא־מְשַׂנְאֶיךְ ה' אֶשְׁנָא", שֶׁכָּתַב הָרַבֵּינוּ יוֹנָה בּּבְּרָכוֹת עַל מַתְנִיתִין בְּכָל לְבָבַךְ, בַּשֵׁנִי יְצָרֶיךּ, בְּיֵצֶר הַטוֹב וּבְיֵצֶר הָרַע, דְּלְשְׁנוֹא אֶת הָרְשָׁעִים הַיִינוּ לַעֲבוֹד הַבּוֹרֵא בְּיֵצֶר הָרַע מְשׁוּם שֶׁהַשִּׂנְאָה וְהִתְּחָרוּת נִּפְעֶלֶת מִיֵּצֶר הָרַע וְהָאַהֲבָה תְּלוּיָה בְּיֵצֶר הַטוֹב, וְאַף כָּאן אָמַר כְּשֶׁאֲנִי שׁוֹנֵא אֶת הָרְשָׁעִים הָערוֹת, אָנִי עוֹבְדֶּךְ אַף בְּיֵצֶר הָרַע, אָם כֵּן אָז דַע לְבָבִי בַּשִׁנִי בַּיִּתִי"ן דְּרוֹמֵז לְיֵצֶר הַטוֹב וּלְיֵצֶר הָרַע.

In this way will be understood the connection between the verse "Examine me, O G-d, and know my heart [לְבָבִי] [levavi]; probe me and know my thoughts" (Ps. 139:23), and the earlier verse, "Those who hate You, O L-rd, I will hate, and your adversaries I will loathe" (Ps. 139:21). For we can consider what Rabbeinu Yona⁶ wrote in tractate Berachot on our mishnah that says: "'And you shall love the L-rd your G-d with all your heart [לְבָבְּךְ [levav'cha], with all your soul, and with all your might' (Deut. 6:5). 'With all your heart' [means] with your two inclinations, with your good inclination and your evil inclination [both of which must be subjugated to the love of G-d]." In other words, Deut. 6:5 could have said "with your heart," instead of "with all your heart," and the interpretation is that the extra word signifies something else, viz, with one's good inclination and evil inclination.

Rabbeinu Yona wrote that to hate the wicked was to serve the Creator with the evil inclination, because the hatred and the rivalry⁸ falls from the evil inclination, while the love for one's fellow Jew depends upon the good inclination. Even here he said, "When I hate the wicked and the transgressions, I serve you even with the evil inclination. If so, "know my heart" with the two appearances of the letter bet in the words לְבָבִי of Deut. 7:6 and לְבָבִי of Ps. 139:23, which hint at the good inclination and the evil inclination. In other words, the word "heart" is typically written with two letters, as בְּבִב [lev], but it is instead written with a doubled letter bet in Deut. 6:5 and in Ps. 139:23, as |ev| [levav]. This is also taken to represent the good inclination and the evil inclination.

⁹ Rabbeinu Yona: "The job of the good inclination is the fulfilment of the mitzvot, and the job of the evil inclination is to conquer the [evil] inclination, that he should overcome it, and this is its job. How can a man further serve the Creator with the evil inclination? We are able to say that the good inclination is the characteristic of mercy and the like, and the evil inclination was created for cruelty. When a man does not have mercy on the wicked and he is cruel to them, it's found that he fulfils a great mitzvah and service of G-d with the evil inclination."
