Chapter I – Prologue

ָּכָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק לָעוֹלָם הַבָּא, שֶׁנֶּאֲמֵר "וְעַמֵּךְ כֵּלָם צַדִּיקִים לְעוֹלָם יִירְשׁוּ אָרֶץ וַצֶּר מטעו [מַטָּעֵי] מַעֲשֵׂה יָדִי לָהָתַפַּאָר".

"All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come, as it is said, 'And your people, all of them righteous, shall possess the Land for all time; they are the shoot of My planting, My handiwork in which I glory' (Isaiah 60:21)."

G-d gave Torah to the Jewish people as a guideline for life, with a desire to reward us for practicing the commandments. This requires Torah study, so that we can properly understand these commandments and how to fulfill them. An important complement to the Torah learning is the study of the ethical teachings of Pirkei Avot, which is learned every Sabbath between Passover and Shavuot.

ָּלָּצִיר קָּאוֹר וְּהַטוֹב קָּצָפּוּן, כִּי רָצָה הַקַּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא לְזַכּוֹת אֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל, לְפִיכָךְ הִרְבָּה לָהֶם תּוֹרָה וּמִצְווֹת. "תְּהָלָּה לְכָל־ חַסִידִיו לְבָנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל עַם־קְרֹבוֹ", שֵׁאֵפִילוּ שִׂיחַתַן וּמִנְהָגָן, צַרִיכָה תַּלְמוּד.

The light and the goodness reserved for you will shine,<sup>2</sup> for "the Holy One, Blessed be He, wanted to grant merit to Israel. Therefore, He gave them Torah and commandments in abundance." "A praise for all His faithful ones, for the children of Israel, the people close to Him," for even their conversation and their customs require analysis.<sup>5</sup>

The commentators "did well to speak thus," praising what all Israel did, may G-d preserve them, to review the chapters of tractate Pirkei Avot every Sabbath of the Sabbaths between Passover and Shavuot, the latter marking the reception of the Torah at Mount Sinai. For "the designation of something is significant," to prepare themselves "by the preparation of Rabba," i.e., preparing in advance of the holiday, to receive the Holy Torah. "This day caused" the name of Israel to be adopted," the day of the Holy holiday of Shavuot, in the way of, "My son, heed the discipline of your father, and do not forsake the instruction of your mother," and "if there is no proper conduct, there is no Torah," and "proper conduct precedes Torah," as is known.

in this matter," <sup>18</sup> "and we still need the knowledge." <sup>19</sup> I.e., if Pirkei Avot is the "lampstand entirely of gold," then the Prologue, "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come," is the bowl above it. In Sanhedrin, it stands to teach that even sinners deserving of the death penalty have a part in the World-to-Come. While not formally a part of Pirkei Avot, it has traditionally been added as a Prologue to each chapter. According to Machzor Vitri, <sup>20</sup> it is added to Pirkei Avot to teach less knowledgeable Jews that they shouldn't give up on repentance or redemption; that they shouldn't lose hope because of the sins they have committed.

ְןהוֹאִיל וַאָתַאִי לְיָדָן, נֵימָא בָּה מִילְתָא, בְּמַה שֶׁהִקְדִימוּ הַמְּפֶּרְשִׁים לְשְׁאוֹל וְלַחֲקוֹר, מַה צוֹרֶךְ הָיָה לוֹ לַתַּנָּא לְהָבִיא סוֹף הַפְּּסוּק "נְצֶּר מַטְעִי מַעֲשֵׂה יָדִי לְהִתְפָּאֵר", דְּהָא מֵרִישֵׁיה דְּקְרָא "וְעַמֵּךְ כֵּלָם צַדִּיקִים לְעוֹלָם יִירְשׁוּ אָרֶץ", דְּהַיִינוּ אֶרֶץ הַחִּים, שַׁפִּיר שְׁפִּיר מַטָּעִי מַעֲשֵׂה יָדִי לְהִתְפָּאֵר", דְּהָא מֵרִישׁיה דְּקְרָא "וְעַמֵּךְ כָּלָם צַדְיקִים לְעוֹלָם הַבָּא. וְהַפָּסוּק עָצְמוֹ, אֵיךְ מְקוּשְׁר רֹאשׁוֹ עִם סוֹפוֹ. וּמַהוּ טַעַם הַקְּרִי כְּתִיב שֶׁבְּיֹר יְתִיב. שֶּׁבְּמִילֵּן 'מַטְּעִי', דְּ'מַשָּעוֹ' בְּתִיב.

"Since this has come to hand, let us say something about it," <sup>21</sup> of what the commentators advanced to question and to investigate.

Question 1: That is, what need was there for the Tanna<sup>22</sup> of our Mishnah to bring the ending of the verse Isaiah 60:21, "They are the shoot of My planting, My handiwork in which I glory"? For the beginning of the verse of Scripture, "And your people, all of them righteous, shall possess the Land for all time"—by which "Land" is referring to "the land of the living"<sup>23</sup>—is fine on its own. I.e., the interpretation "your people . . . shall possess the Land [of the living] for all time" means that Israel will have eternal life. Thus, we learn from this beginning of Isaiah 60:21 that "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come." So why did the Tanna quote the entire verse? We will see that the answer to this question also answers a question regarding the verse itself: How is its beginning connected with its ending?

Question 2: Also, what is the meaning of the spoken Scripture, regarding the word pronounced ma'ta'ai [מָטָעיֹ] ["My planting"], for which ma'ta'o [מָטָעיֹ] ["his planting"] is written? I.e., the Masoretic tradition tells us that the word is to be pronounced one way, but written a different way.

That is, from the start, the Tanna advanced that all Israel have a portion in the Worldto-Come, and specifically all Israel, and not the nations. "For the L-rd's portion is His people," for they are called "His portion," as we say when we make a blessing upon seeing sages of Israel and kings of Israel, "Who has apportioned of His wisdom and His glory to those who revere Him." Indeed, regarding the sages and kings of the nations, we don't say "Who has apportioned," but instead we say, "Who has given," because they are not the portion of the Holy One, Blessed be He.

ְּוֶכֵן כָּתְבוּ הַמְּקֻבָּלִים עַל מַה שֶׁאָמְרוּ רַבּוֹתֵינוּ זַ"ל, "אָדֶם אַתֶּם", "אַתָּם" קְרוּיִים "אָדֶם", וְאֵין אוּמוֹת הָעוֹלָם קְרוּיִים אָדָם, שֶׁכָּל הַנְּשָׁמוֹת וְהָרוּחוֹת וְהַנְּפָשׁוֹת שֶׁל כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל שֶׁהָיוּ מִצַּד הַטוֹב, הָיוּ כְּלוּלוֹת וּתְלוּיוֹת בָּאָדָם הָרְאשׁוֹן, כִּדְאִיתָא בַּמִּדְרָשׁ עַל כָּסוּב, הָיוּ בְּלוּלוֹת וּתְלוּיוֹת בָּאָדָם הוּא נִשְׁמַת "אָדָם", ו"אַתָּם" עַל כָּסוּק "אֵיפֹה הָיִיתְ בְּיָסְדִי־אָרָץ" וְכוּ', וְלָכֵן אָמְרוּ "אָדָם אַתָּם", שֶׁכָּל כְּלְלוּת נִשְׁמוֹתִיהֶם הוּא נִשְׁמַת "אָדָם", ו"אַתָּם" נִצוֹצוֹת וְאֵיבָרִים שֶׁלוֹ. וֹמְשַעַם זֶה נִקְרָאוּ יִשְׂרָאֵל "גוֹי אֶחָד", דְּכְתִיב "וּמִי כְּעַמְּךְ בְּיִשְׂרָאֵל גוֹי אֶחָד".

The Kabbalists<sup>27</sup> also wrote about what our rabbis, of blessed memory, said, "'For you, My flock, flock that I tend, you are man [Adam] [¤ṇṇ]; and I am your G-d.'<sup>28</sup> You, the Jewish people, are called 'man,' but the gentiles are not called 'man.' "For all "the neshamot, and the ruchot, and the nefashot"<sup>30</sup> of all Israel who were on the side of good, were included and dependent upon the first man [Adam], as it brought in the midrash<sup>31</sup> on the verse, "Where were you when I laid the earth's foundations?"<sup>32</sup> Therefore, [the rabbis] said, "you are man [Adam]," that all of the general characteristics of their souls were the soul of Adam, and you are his sparks of holiness and limbs. For this reason, Israel is called "one nation," as it is written, "And who is like Your people Israel, a unique nation on earth."<sup>33</sup>

ּוּכְשֶׁלֶּקֶח הַקֶּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא הָאָדָם וְהִנִּיחוּ בְּגַן עֵדֶן וְלֹמְדוֹ הַתּוֹרָה, כִּדְאָמְרִינַן "לְעַבְדָּה", אֵלוּ מִצְוֹוֹת עֲשֹׁה, "וּלְשָׁמְרָה" אֵלוּ מִצְוֹת לֹא הַּצְשָׁה. הָיוּ כָּל הָאֵיבָרִים שָׁלוֹ מִתְעַדְּנִים שָׁם, וְכָל אֶחָד קבֵּל חָלְקוֹ. וְאַף אַחָר שֶׁחָטָא אָדָם, וְגָרַם הִתְעָרְבוּת טוֹב בְּרַע, וְגָרַם עוֹד לְאוֹתָן הַנְּשָׁמוֹת הַטוֹבוֹת הַנָּאֱחָזוֹת בְּאֵיבָרָיו, לְהִתְלַבֵּשׁ בְּאוֹתָן שֶׁל אָדָם בְּלִיעַל - רֹאשׁ בְּרֹאשׁ וְכוּ' יָדִין בְּיָדִין, בְּרַע, וְגָרַם עוֹד לְאוֹתָן הַנְּשָׁמוֹת הַטוֹבוֹת מִמּוֹךְ הָרֵע הַהוּא, וּבָאוֹת לְעוֹלֶם הַנָּה עַל יְדֵי מִצְנַת כְּּרָיָה שָׁצְנַנוּ הַקְּדוֹשׁ בַּרוּךְ הוּא, וְזוֹכוֹת לְחֵיֵי הַעוֹלִם הַבָּא, לִיטוֹל חֻלֶק הַרָאוֹי לָהֶם עַל יָדֵי עַסְק הַתּוֹרָה וְהַמְּצְוֹת.

When the Holy One, Blessed be He, took the man [Adam] and placed him in the Garden of Eden and taught him Torah, as it says in the Zohar I:27a on Gen. 2:15, the word "to work it" refers to the positive commandments, and the word "and to guard it" refers to the negative commandments. There, all of his limbs became refined to fulfill the commandments, and each [limb] received his portion, i.e., reward. This is so even after Adam sinned, when the souls became mixed with the klipot, the husks of spiritual impurity, and caused the mixing up of good and evil, and also caused these good souls that had grasped his limbs to become "clothed" with the same limbs of the "despicable man" [Adam HaBelial], the good head mixing with the evil head, etc. the good hands mixing with the evil hands, the good feet mixing with the evil feet. Despite all this, in every generation, good souls will exit from the evil, and they come to this world through the commandment of being fruitful and multiplying that the Holy One, Blessed be He, commanded, and they merit life in the World-to-Come, to take a portion suitable for them based on their occupation in the Torah and the commandments.

ּוְזֶהוּ מֵה שֶׁרוֹצֶה לְהוֹכִיחַ הַתּנָּא, שֶׁכָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק, שֻׁאַף שֶׁנִּדְּחוּ לַקְּלִיפּוֹת, עִם כֹּל זֶה, יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק, וְלֹאׁ "יִדַּח מִמֶּנוּ נִדָּח". זוּלְתִי אוֹתָם שֶׁיָצָאוּ מִכְּלָל יִשְׂרָאֵל, כְּמוֹ שֶׁמוֹנֶה הַתַּנָּא אַחַר כַּךְּ - וְאֵלּוּ שֶׁאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק לְעוֹלָם הַבָּא, שֶׁהָן אוֹתָן הַנְּשָׁמוֹת שֶׁבָּאוּ מִצַד הָרַע, שֶׁכְּבֶר הוּרָרַר הַטוֹב שֶׁבָּהֶן.

This is what the Tanna wanted to prove, that all Israel has a portion in the World-to-Come, that even those who were led astray in the husks of spiritual impurity, nevertheless, they have a portion in the World-to-Come, "and he that is banished will not be banished." The exception are those who leave the category of Israel, whom the Tanna names afterwards, saying "and these are those who have no portion in the World-to-Come," for they are the souls that come from the bad side, for they already separated out and discarded the good that was within them.

וּמֵבִיא רְאָיָה מִפֶּסוּק "וְעַמֵּך כֵּלָם צַדִּיקִים לְעוֹלָם יִירְשׁוּ אָרֶץ", לֶעָתִיד לָבֹא כָּל בְּנֵי צִיּוֹן, שֶׁהִיא הַכְּנָסֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל, דְּהַיְינוּ כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל, יִהִיוּ "כַּלֶּם צַדִּיקִים", וִיזַכּוּ לְחַיֵּי עוֹלָם הַבָּא הַנִּקְרָאִים חַיֵּי עוֹלָם, וְזָהוּ "לְעוֹלָם יִירְשׁוּ אָרֵץ", דְּהַיִינוּ אֶרֶץ הַחַיִּים.

[The Tanna] brings proof from the verse, "And your people, all of them righteous, shall possess the Land for all time," as we said above, "the Land" refers to the "Land of the living," and thus the verse is saying that Israel will possess the Land [of the living] for all time, i.e., that Israel will have eternal life. The Future-to-Come for all the children of Zion, which is the congregation of Israel, which is all Israel, all of them will be righteous, and they will merit life in the World-to-Come, which is called "eternal life." This is the meaning of, "shall possess the Land for all time," which is the Land of the living.

וְאָם תּאֹמַר, וְאֵיךְ אָפְשֶׁר שֶׁיִּהְיוּ כֵּלָם צַדִּיקִים, וְהָאִיכָּא הַרְבֵּה רְשָׁעִים חוּץ מֵאוֹתָם שֶׁמוֹנֶה אַחַר כָּדְ הַתַּנָּא, וְנֵשׁ כַּמָה צַדִּיקִים שָׁלֹא הִשָּׁלִימוּ הַתִּיקוּן שֵׁלָהָם בְּתַרָיֵ"ג מָצִוֹת, וָאֵין לוֹמַר בַּהָם "לְעוֹלָם יִירִשׁוּ אֲרֵץ".

Question 1 asked why the ending of the verse Isaiah 60:21 was included in the Mishnah. The answer is that perhaps you will say, how is it possible that all of them will be righteous, for aren't there many wicked besides those named afterward by the Tanna? Also, there are some righteous who have not completed their correction in observance of all the 613 commandments, and it should not be said about them that "they shall possess the Land for all time."

מְשׁוּם הָכִי מֵבִיא סוֹף הַפָּסוּק "נֵצֶר מַטָּעַי" וְכוּ', שֶהַקּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא נוֹטֵעַ נְטִיעוֹת בָּעוֹלָם, וּבְתוֹכָם מַבְרִיךְ וּמַרְכִּיב אֵיזֶה נֵצֶר מָן הָאִילָן הָרָאוּי לְהִתְּתַּקּן, כְּלוֹמֵר, שֶׁשׁוֹלֵם אוֹתָן הַנְּשָׁמוֹת בְּסוֹד עִיבּוּר וְגִלְגוּל, תּוֹךְ אֲנָשִׁים אֲחָרִים, שֶׁהֵם הַנְּטִיעוֹת שֶׁל הַקְּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא, כְּנוֹדָע מִפְּסוּק "הָן־כָּל־אֵלֶה יִפְעַל־אֵל פַּעֲמֵיִם שָׁלוֹשׁ עִם־גָּבֶר". וּבְזֶה הַדֶּרֶךְ יַשְׁלִים חָסְרוֹנוֹ מִי שֶׁצָּרִיךְ לְהַשְׁלִים, וִיתַקּן הַקּלְקוּל וְהַכְּגָב, מִי שֶׁצָּרִיךְ לַתִּיקוּן.

Because of this, [the Tanna] brings the ending of the verse, "they are the shoot of My planting" etc. That the Holy One, Blessed be He, planted seedlings in the world, and amongst them He blesses and combines some shoot from the tree worthy of repair. That is, He sends those souls by sod ibur, a temporary and beneficial possession of a living person's body by a righteous soul,<sup>40</sup> or by reincarnation, amongst other people who are the seedlings of the Holy One, Blessed be He. This is known to Kabbalists<sup>41</sup> from the verse, "Truly, G-d does all these things two or three times to a man."<sup>42</sup> In this way, if one has a deficiency and requires completion, He will make him whole, and He will repair the breakdown and defect of one needing repair, and thus "all of them are righteous," connecting the verse's beginning and ending.

&lt;sup>38</sup> Some rabbis, such as Maimonides (Rambam), believe that the World-to-Come (olam haba) or synonymous Future-to-Come (atid lavo) describe an entirely spiritual existence for souls, whereas Nachmanides (Ramban) believes it relates to an existence on Earth where spirituality and physicality are merged.

וּלְפִי שֶׁרוֹב הַגּּלְגוּלִים וְהָעִבּוּרִים הֵם מִשׁוֹרֶשׁ אֶחָד, כְּמוֹ שֶׁכָּתַב בְּפֶּרֶק ה' מִסֵפֶר הַגּלְגוּלִים כְּתַב יָד, לָכֵן כְּתִיב "מַטָּעוֹ" בְּנָא"ו, דְּהַיִינוּ הַשׁוֹרֵשׁ "שֵׁלּוֹ" - הוּא עִיבּוּרוֹ וְגִלְגוּלוֹ וּמַטֵע שֵׁלוֹ. וְקַרֵינֵן "מַטַעַי" סְתַם, שֵׁכּוֹלֵל כַּלְם מֵאֵיזֵה מִין שֵׁיִהִיוּ.

Question 2 asked why Isaiah 60:21 included a word pronounced differently than it was written. The answer is that Because most of the reincarnations and the iburim<sup>43</sup> are from one root, as is written in the fifth chapter of the manuscript of Sefer haGilgulim, therefore it is written "his planting" [מַטָּעוֹ] [ma 'ta'o] with a vav. That is, it's his root, referring not to G-d but to the original roots that the Kabbalists have identified, such as Cain, Abel, Adam, Eve, etc. – it is his ibur and his reincarnation and his planting, those of the original incarnation. But it is pronounced "My planting" [מַטָּעַנֹ] [ma 'ta'ai], i.e., referring to G-d's planting, which includes everyone of whatever type they will be.

וְאָז, "מַעֲשֵׂה יָדִי" - שֶׁהֶם הַנְּבְרָאִים כַּלָּם, הַנָּקְרָאִים מַעֲשֶׂה יָדִיו שֶׁל הַקְּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּף הוּא, הַם "לְהַתְּפָּאֵר", כִּי כַּלְּם נִתְקְנוּ וְנִשְׁלְמוּ.

Thus, we read it as "My handiwork," which are all the creations, they are called the handiwork of the hands of the Holy One, Blessed be He, they are that "in which I glory," because all of them were repaired and made whole.

&lt;sup>40</sup> In non-Kabbalistic terms, sod ibur, "the secret of the pregnancy," relates to the intercalation of the Jewish calendar, deciding when an extra day or leap month was needed, which required a "secret" council prior to the fixing of the calendar by Hillel II. However, in the Kabbalistic terminology being discussed here, sod ibur relates to a temporary and beneficial possession of a living person's body by a righteous soul. The living person may know that it has taken place, and may have consented to it, or may not even know that it has taken place. The objective of the righteous soul is to complete an important task, such as to fulfill a promise or to fulfill a commandment.

An alternate answer to question 2: Also, it can be said that the reading of the Scripture as "My planting," comes to hint at the difficulty and great doubt that exists regarding reincarnation, such that the pious and holy men who are in the Land did not have to depart from the world until they completed their part of the 613 commandments, in order that they would not have to reincarnate further.

Accordingly, we see that it is the will of the Holy One, Blessed be He, that there are deceased Jews, and those who reincarnate in order to complete their corrections, such as our teacher Moses, peace be upon him. It was difficult for him to die, because he wanted to complete all the correction necessary for him; but the Holy One, Blessed be He, decreed death upon him.

To complete his correction, they said about him in the Tikunim, i.e., the Tikunei haZohar, that the soul of Moses spread out to six hundred thousand generations, and the meaning is that, it's because he needed to complete the correction of one part of him, for he was a very great man, and his reincarnations will not be completed so swiftly.<sup>44</sup>

וּמִשׁוּם הָכִי קָרֵינַן 'מַטָּעַי', מִפְּנֵי שָׁאֵלּוּ הַנְּטִיעוֹת בָּאוֹת מֵרְצוֹנוֹ שֶׁל הַקָּדוֹשׁ בָּרוּךְ הוּא, שֶׁהָרֵי אָם לֹא הָיָה גּוֹזֵר מִיתָה עַל מֹשֶׁה, הָיָה מְתַקֵּן הַכֹּל, וְלֹא הָיָה צוֹרֶךְ לִיטַע נְטִיעוֹת חֲדָשׁוֹת לַתִּיקוּן שֶׁלּוֹ. וּכְמוֹ שֶׁמָצִינוּ בְּדָנִיֵּאל, דְּכְתִיב בֵּיה "וְאַתָּה לֵךְ לַפֵּץ וְתָנוּחַ" וְכוּי, דְּמַשִׁמֵע שֵׁהָיָה לוֹ לַנוּם שֵׁלֹּא לָבֹא בִּגִלְגוּל, שֵׁכְּבֵר הָשָׁלִים הַתִּיקוּן שֵׁלוֹ.

Because of this, we pronounce it as "My planting," because these plantings come from the will of the Holy One, Blessed be He, for if He had not decreed death upon Moses, he would have corrected everything, and there would not have been a need to plant new plantings for his correction. As we find in Daniel, in which it is written, "But you, go on to the end; you shall rest, and arise to your destiny at the end of the days,"<sup>45</sup> that means that he should rest so that he shouldn't come again as a reincarnation, for he has already completed his correction.

&quot;About this, it is said that there is no generation less than sixty myriad [souls], and about him it is said, 'the word which He commanded to a thousand generations' (Ps. 105:8), and [his soul] has spread out in every generation, and in every righteous person and every wise person who engages in Torah, for sixty myriads, to complete all from their deficiencies. This is the esoteric secret of the matter – 'He was wounded because of our sins' (Isaiah 53:5), for he is equal to all, as the masters of the Mishnah clarified: One woman gave birth to six hundred thousand, and who is that? [Jochebed, who bore] Moses, who is equivalent to sixty myriads of Israel]. Because of that, it says about him, 'one generation goes [and another generation comes]' (Eccl. 1:4). [This means that they come] to the same world, and [that] the generation that comes will come like that of the past."

ּוּמִכֶּל מָקוֹם כְּתִיב "מַטָּעוֹ" בְּנָא"ו, לְפִי שֶׁיֵּשׁ הַרְבֵּה אֲנָשִׁים שֶׁהָיוּ יְכוֹלִים לְהַשְׁלִים תִּיקוּנָם בִּימֵי חַיֵּיהֶם, וְלֹא הַשְׁלִימוּ, מִפְּנֵי שָׁנִּתְעַצְּלוּ וְנַתְרִשְׁלוּ, אוֹ חַטְאוּ, חָס וְשָׁלוֹם, וּלְפִי זֶה צָרִיךְ שֶׁיּתְגַּלְגְּלוּ פַּעַם אַחֶרֶת. אָמְנָם זֶה הַגִּלְגוּל וְזֹאֹת הַנְּטִיעָה הַחְדָשָׁה, בָּאָה מַחֲמַת הִתְרַשְׁלוּת אוֹתוֹ הָאָדָם וְכַדּוֹמֶה, וְזֶהוּ "נֵצֶר מַטָּעוֹ".

In any case, it's written "his planting" with a vav, because there are many people who would have been able to complete their correction in the days of their lives, but nevertheless don't complete them, because they were lazy and negligent, or because they sinned, G-d forbid, and because of this they needed to be reincarnated another time. Indeed, this reincarnation and the new planting comes about because of this man's negligence and the like, and this is the meaning of "the shoot of his planting," i.e., referring to the negligence of the man in his previous incarnation.

Toldot Shimshon now addresses a comment of Rashi on the Mishnah, "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come."

וּבְזֶה נְבָאֵר לָשׁוֹן רַשִּׁ"י זַ"ל, שֶׁכָּתַב שָׁם בַּסַּנְהָדְרִין בְּפֵירוּשׁ הַבָּבָא הַזּאֹת, וְזֶה לְשׁוֹנוֹ, דְּמֵעִיקּרָא אָיְיֵרֵי בְּאַרְבַּע מִיתוֹת, וּמְפָּרֵשׁ לְהוּ לְכֵלְהוּ, וְהָדֵר מְפָרֵשׁ הָנֵי דְאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק לָעוֹלָם הַבָּא, עכ"ל. וְתָמְהוּ עָלָיו, דְּמָה עִנְיָן אוֹמְרוֹ - וְהָדֵר מְפָרֵשׁ הָנֵי דְאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק, עַל פֵּירוּשׁ הַבָּבָא שֶׁל כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק וְכוּ'.

In this way, we will clarify some language of Rashi, of blessed memory, who wrote there in Sanhedrin (90a), in explanation of this opening of chapter 11, "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come." This is his language, that: "From the outset, i.e., from the earlier chapters of Sanhedrin, [the Mishnah] discusses four [types of] deaths [meted out by the court], and now in this chapter explains "all," i.e., that "all Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come," and then it goes back to explain those who have no portion in the World-to-Come," listing a few categories of sinners, such as one who disputes the Divinity of the Torah. 46

[Commentators]<sup>47</sup> wondered about this statement of Rashi, that what is the connection he is talking about, that [the Tanna] goes back to explain those that have no portion in the World-to-Come. How is that relevant to the explanation of the opening of Chapter 11 that "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come"?

וְנָרָאָה, דְּקַשְׁיָא לֵיה אֵיךּ קָאָמַר, כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק, וְהָא אִיכָּא הָנֵי דְּאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק, שֶׁבְּרִשְׁעָתָם אִבְּדוּ חָלְקָם, וְלֹא שׁיָּיךְ לוֹמַר "כָּל" יִשְׂרָאֵל. וְהָיָה לוֹ לוֹמַר, אֵלוּ יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק, שֶׁאָפִילוּ שֶׁפָּשְׁעוּ וְעָבְרוּ וְנִתְחַיִּיבוּ מִיתָה בְּבֵית דִּין, עִם כָּל זֶה, מִיתַתוּ כַּפַּרַתוּ, וִיֵשׁ לָהֵם חֵלֶק. וָאָסר כַּךְ, וָאֵלוּ שָׁאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק.

It appears that it is difficult for [Rashi] that it says, "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come," for aren't there those that have no portion in the World-to-Come, for because of their wickedness they lost their portion? Thus, perhaps it's not proper to say "all" Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come? To explain away this concern, it should have said that these are those that have a portion in the World-to-Come, that even though they sinned and violated the commandments and deserve death at the hands of the court, nevertheless, their deaths serve as their atonement; and therefore, they still have a portion in the World-to-Come. Afterward, it should have said, these are those who have no portion in the World-to-Come, then listed the categories of sinners whose wickedness is not forgiven.

לֶכֵן פַּרִשׁ רַשִּׁ"י עַל בָּבָא זוֹ דְּכָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל - וְהָדֶּר מְפָּרֵשׁ הָנֵי דְּאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק, מִשׁוּם דְּפֵּירוּשׁ "כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל" רְצוֹנוֹ לוֹמַר, כָּל אוֹתָן הַנְּשָׁמוֹת שָׁנְּקְרְאוּ יִשְׁרָאֵל, כְּלוֹמֵר, יִשְׂרָאֵל רוּחָנִי, דְּהַיְינוּ אוֹתָן שֶׁהִיוּ מִצֵּד הַטוֹב כְּלוּלוֹת בָּאָדָם הָרִאשׁוֹן, יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק, בְּמֹוֹ שֶׁאָמְרְנוּ, וּכְמוֹ שֶׁאָמְרְנוּ, וּכְמוֹ שֶׁאָמְרְנוּ, וּכְמוֹ שֶׁבָּרִא יִשְׂרָאֵל, חוֹזֵר וּמְפָרֵשׁ דִּינָן שֶׁל כָּל מִי שֶׁלֹּא נַקְרָא יִשְׂרָאֵל רוּחָנִי, שֶׁלֹא בָּאוּ מִצֵּד הָלָת שְׁלָא הַדְּרָ הַטוֹב שֶׁבָּהֶם, וְאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק, וְסִיפָּא דְּמִתְנִיתִין לֹא אָיְירֵי כְּלָל בְּמִי שֶׁשְׁמוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל רוּחָנִי. הַטּוֹב שֶׁבָּהָם, וְאֵין לָהֶם חֵלֶק, וְסִיפָּא דְּמִתְנִיתִין לֹא אָיְירֵי כְּלָל בְּמִי שֶׁשְׁמוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל רוּחָנִי. הַטוֹב יְבָּבָל יִשְׂרָאֵל.

Therefore, Rashi expounded on this opening that "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come," and that [the Tanna] goes back to explain these are the ones that have no such portion. This is because the explanation "All Israel" means to say: All of these souls that are called "Israel"—that is, who are spiritually Israel—that is, those from the side of good contained in the first man—they have a portion in the World-to-Come, as we have said, and as is brought from the verse, "the shoot of My planting." This is so even for those who received the four death penalties meted out by the court, even they will have a portion in the World-to-Come.

Then [the Tanna] goes back to say that these are ones who have no portion in the Worldto-Come, that after it taught the law of everyone who is called "Israel," it goes back and explains the law of those who are not called Israel spiritually, who do not come from the side of good, but only from the bad side of the first man, and who have separated out and discarded the good that was within them, and they have no portion in the World-to-Come.

This ending that we learn, those who have no portion in the World-to-Come, is not at all speaking of those whose name is Israel from a spiritual point of view, but rather it speaks of a few specific categories of people, such as one who has rejected the Divinity of Torah.

In contrast, the beginning that we learn, those who do have a portion in the World-to-Come, is speaking of all Israel spiritually, such as one who accepts the Divinity of Torah and who is respectful to the Torah and its scholars, even if he has violated its precepts to the point of receiving a death penalty from the court, and thus the Tanna specifically teaches "all Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come."

Toldot Shimshon now discusses the reason that the Prologue has been traditionally added to each chapter of Pirkei Avot.

הַטַּעַם שֶׁנָּהָגוּ כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל לִשְׁנוֹת מִשְׁנָה זוֹ קוֹדֶם כָּל כֶּרֶק וּפֶּרֶק מִמַּסֶּכֶת אָבוֹת, הַיִּינוּ מִשׁוּם דְּקֵיִמָּא לָן דְּמַאן דְּבָעֵי לְמֶהֶנִי הַסִּידָא יְקַבֵּים מִילִּי דְּאָבוֹת" מַשְׁמָע, שֻׁיְקַבֵּים כּוּלָם. וְעַל זָה יֵשׁ לְהַקְשׁוֹת, חֲסִידָא יְקַבִּים מִילִּי דְאָבוֹת" מַשְׁקַבּים מִילִּי לָא חָשֵׁב מֵעוֹלָם וְהָלֹא הַמּוּסָרִים שֶׁל מַסֶּכֶת אָבוֹת נִשְׁנוּ מַהַרְבֵּה חָכָמִים, וּמִי שֶׁאָמֵר זָה, לֹא אָמֵר זָה, וְאָפְשִׁר נָמֵי, שֶׁחָכָם אָחָד לֹא חָשֵׁב מֵעוֹלָם לְקַבֵּים הַמּוּסָר שֶׁל חֲבֵירוֹ, רַק שֶׁכָּל אֶחָד הָיָה אוֹמֵר מַה שֶׁהָיָה נִזְהָר בּּוֹ, וְתוּ לֹא. וְלָמָה יִתְנִסְּף עָלֵינוּ הַחוֹב לְקַבֵּים כַּלָּם, יוֹתֵר מָמָה שָׁהָיוּ עוֹשִׁים הַם, וַהָּלֹא הָיָה דִּי שֶׁכָּל אֶחָד וְאָחָד יְקְבֵּים מַה שֶׁאָמֵר הַנָּא אָחָד, וְתוּ לֹא.

The reason that all of Israel is accustomed to repeat this Mishnah before each and every chapter of tractate Pirkei Avot, is because we hold in accordance with the teaching that one who wants to be pious should fulfill the words of tractate Pirkei Avot,<sup>48</sup> which are a correction for the body and soul.

"He should fulfill the words of tractate Pirkei Avot" means that he should fulfill all of them. Regarding this, we can question: Aren't the ethical teachings of tractate Pirkei Avot learned from many sages, and one who says this teaching of his own, doesn't say that teaching of his fellow? It's also possible, that one sage never thinks to fulfill the ethical teaching of his fellow, rather that each says only what he is personally careful about, and nothing more. Why should the obligation be added to us to fulfill everything, more than what they were doing, for wasn't it enough that each and every one of them fulfilled what one Tanna<sup>49</sup> said, and nothing more?

ְוְיֵשׁ לוֹמַר, דְּאִין הָכִי נָמֵי, דְּמַאן דְּבָעֵי לְמֶהֶנֵי חֲסִידָא, צָרִיךְ שֶׁיְּקֵיֵים כֵּלָּן, אַף עַל פִּי שֶׁאֶפְשֶׁר שֶׁאוֹתָם הַתְּנָאִים לֹא הָיוּ חוֹשְׁשִׁים רַק לְקַיֵּים מַה שֶׁהָיוּ אוֹמְרִים, אוֹ כְּמוֹ שֶׁפֵּירֵשׁ הָרַב עוֹבַדְיָה מִבּרְטְנוֹרָא בְּפֶרֶק קַמָּא דְּמְכִילְתִּין, שֻׁכָּל רַבִּי פְּלוֹנִי אוֹמֵר, הוּא הָנְה אוֹמֵר, שֶׁבְּמַסֶּכְתָּא זוֹ, פֵּירוּשָׁן, הָיָה רָגִיל לוֹמֵר כֵּן תָּמִיד, עכ"ל. וְהַטַּעַם יוּבַן, בְּמָה שֶׁכְּתוּב בְּסֵפֶר הַגְּלְגוּלִים כְּתָב יָד פֶּרֶק דְיִים מָה שֶׁחָסֵר מֵהֶם, וְלָכֵן שְׁאַר הַמִּצְוֹת שֶׁקּיִימוּ בְּגלְגוּלִים אֲחֵרִים, לֹא הָיוּ כָּל כָּךְ נִזְהָרִים בְּה, בְּאִם כַּן, אֵין לַדָּבֶר סוֹף, וְכִינָן שֶׁבְּּכֶר קִיְּימוּ אֵיזוֹ מִצְנָה בְּאֵיזֶה גִּלְגוּל אַחַר, אֵין צָרִיךְ לַעֲשׂוֹתָה.

It can be said, that it's indeed so, that one who wants to be pious needs to fulfill all of Pirkei Avot, despite the fact that it's possible that each of the Tannaim was concerned only to fulfill what each said. Or, as Rabbi Ovadia of Bartenura<sup>50</sup> explained in the first chapter of our Mechilta,<sup>51</sup> i.e. on Pirkei Avot 1:2: "Every [instance of] 'Rabbi So-and-so says' [means] 'He would say,' which in [the context] of this tractate, the meaning [of these words] is 'He was accustomed to saying such a thing constantly.'"

&lt;sup>48</sup> Bava Kamma 30a: "Rav Yehuda says: One who wants to be pious should fulfill the words of [tractate] Nezikin [so as to avoid causing damage to others]. Rava said [he should fulfill] the words of [tractate Pirkei] Avot. And some say [he should fulfill] the words of [tractate] Berakhot."

The reason will be understood by what was written in the manuscript of Sefer haGilgulim, chapter 4, that the first Tannaim knew what their deficiencies were. Therefore, regarding the remaining commandments that they hadn't mentioned, they had already fulfilled them in other incarnations. Therefore, they weren't so careful about them, for if so, there would be no end to the matter. Since they had already fulfilled whatever commandment in whatever other incarnation, there was no need to fulfill it in the current incarnation. That is, the concept of reincarnation is to allow someone to fulfill a commandment that he had not fulfilled in the past. There is no expectation that in a particular incarnation, a person will live a perfect life and fulfill all 613 commandments, without sin, for that is beyond human capability. If that were the expectation, then there would have to be an endless series of reincarnations for that soul.

ּוְזֶהוּ מֵה שֶׁאָמְרוּ בַּגְּמָרָא, שָׁאַל ר' פְּלוֹנִי אֶת ר' פְּלוֹנִי, אַבוּךּ, בְּמֵאי זָהִיר טְפֵי. וְהַשִּׁיב, בְּצִיצִית וְכוּ'. שֶׁנַּרְאֶה שְׁהָיוּ נזְהָרִים בְּמִצְוָה אַחַת, יוֹתֵר מִשְּׁאַר מִצְוֹת. וְקַשֶּׁה, שֶׁהָרֵי אָמְרוּ, וְהֶנֵי זָהִיר בְּמִצְוָה קַלָּה כְּבַחֲמוּרָה. אֶלָּא מִפְּנֵי שֶׁהִיוּ יוֹדְעִים מֵה שֶׁחָסֵר מֵהֶם, הַיוּ מִשְׁתַּדְּלִים לְהַשְׁלִים חָסְרוֹנָם.

This is what they say in the Gemara: "Rabbi So-and-so asked Rabbi Such-and-such: In what was your father especially vigilant? He answered, in [the commandment of] ritual fringes [tzitzit]. One day, he was climbing the stairs [when] a string [from his ritual fringes] was severed, and he would not descend until he placed [a new string] on [the garment]."<sup>52</sup> It appears from the question that they thought it was normal if they were careful about one commandment, more than the other commandments. This is difficult, for they say, "Be careful with a light commandment as with a grave one, for you do not know the reward [for the fulfillment] of the commandments."<sup>53</sup> Rather, because they knew what their deficiencies were, they would endeavor to complete their deficiencies.

אָמָנֶם שְׁאַר בְּנֵי הָאָדָם, שֶׁאֵינָם יוֹדְעִים עַל מָה בָּאוּ לָעוֹלָם וּמֶה חָסֵר לָהֶם, צְרִיכִים לְקַיֵּים כָּל הַמִּצְוֹת וְלָכֵן הִזְהִירָנוּ הַתַּנָּא, וְהָנֵי זָהִיר בִּמִצְנָה קַלָּה כָּבַחַמוּרָה.

But for the rest of mankind, who do not know for what reason they came into the world and what their deficiencies are, they need to fulfill all the commandments, and therefore the Tanna warned us, "Be careful with a light commandment as with a grave one."

Because of this, on these same Sabbaths that we learn this tractate, to teach the children of Israel the moral teachings and the proper conduct that precedes the Torah, it's possible that a man will come and will say that it's necessary only to fulfill two or three of [the teachings], as one Tanna from these Tannaim was saying, and nothing more.

Therefore, Israel was wise in their good custom, and they prefaced this Mishnah of "All Israel have a portion in the World-to-Come," "the shoot of My planting," etc., to inform us that each of us needs to reincarnate in order to complete his deficiency. In any case, we know that distinction between us and the Tannaim, for they knew what their deficiency was, something that is not so in our generations, for "there is no longer any prophet; no one among us knows for how long." For this reason, we need to endeavor to fulfill all of [the teachings of Pirkei Avot], and all of the commandments, "for our good always, that He might preserve us alive," for the World-to-Come.
