Chapter I – Mishnah 15

שַׁמַאי אוֹמֵר, עֲשֵׂה תוֹרָתִדְּ קָבַע. אֱמוֹר מִעַט וַעֲשֵׂה הַרְבֵּה, וָהֲוֵי מִקבֵּל אֶת כַּל הָאָדָם בְּסַבֶּר פָּנִים יָפוֹת.

Shammai used to say: Make your [study of the] Torah a fixed [practice]; speak little, but do much; and receive all men with the expression of a pleasant countenance.

ַבִּשֹ לְדַקְדֵּק, לָמָּה אָמַר "תּוֹרָתְדָּ", הָיָה לוֹ לוֹמַר, "עֲשֵׂה הַתּוֹרָה קֶבַע". וְעוֹד, מַהוּ "בְּסֵבֶר"? וּמַהוּ "אֶת כָּל"? הָיָה לוֹ לוֹמַר, "וְהַנֵי מָקַבֵּל הָאָדַם בְּפַנִים יָפוֹת". וּמֵה הָיָתָה כַּוּוֹנַת הַשֶּׁלֵם הַזֵּה בְּמוּסָרִים אֵלּוּ.

Question 1: We need to check: Why does it say, "your [study of the] Torah"? He should have said, "Make [the study of] Torah a fixed [practice].

Question 2: Why did he say, "speak little, but do much"?

Question 3: Also, what is this "expression"? He should have said, "Receive all men with a pleasant countenance."

Question 4: Also, what is this "all [men]"? He should have said, "Receive men with a pleasant countenance."

What was the complete intention of these ethical teachings?

וְהָאֱמֶת יוֹרֶה דַּרְכּוֹ, כִּי כְּבָר כָּתַבְנוּ בַּמִּשְׁנָה הַקּוֹדֶמֶת, שֶׁהַלֵּל וְשׁמֵּאי לֹא נֶחֶלְקוּ אֶלָּא עַל שְׁלוֹשָׁה דְּבָרִים בִּלְבִד, כִּדְאָמְרִינַן בְּבֶּרֶק קַמָּא דְּשַׁבָּת דַּף ט"ו, וְשׁמֵּאי קַבַע מוּסָרִים אֵלוּ, לְפִי סְבָרָתוֹ בְּאֵלוֹ הַשְׁלוֹשָׁה דְּבָרִים דַוְקֵא.

"The truth instructs its [own] path," as we already wrote in the previous Mishnah, that Hillel and Shammai disagreed only on three things, as it is said in the first chapter of tractate Shabbat, page 15a, and that Shammai established these ethical teachings according to his understanding of these three things.<sup>2</sup>

ּוְהַפַּחֲלוֹקֶת הָאַחַת, אִיתָא בְּרֵישׁ מַסֶּכֶת נָדָּה, שַׁמֵּאי אוֹמֵר, כָּל הַנָּשִׁים דַּיָּין שַׁעְתָּן. וְהַלֵּל אוֹמֵר, מְפְּקִידָה לְפְקִידָה, וַאֲפִילוּ לִיָּמִה הָלֵּל לְשַׁמֵּאי, אִין, טַעֲמָא קַאָמַרְתָּ, דְּאָם אִיתָא דִּהְוָה דָּם, מֵעִיקֶּרָא הָוָה אָתִי, לֹיָמִר בִּיִּה הָלֵּל לְשַׁמֵּאי, אִין, טַעֲמָא קַאָמַרְתָּ, דְּאָם אִיתָא דַּהְוָה דָּם, מֵעִיקֶּרָא הָוֹב הְּלָבְיָה וְרְבִיָּה וּמְיִב לְאָרָיךְ, דְּמַאי שְׁנָא מִכָּל הַתּוֹרָה כּוּלָה דְּעָבְדִינַן סְיָיג. אָמַר לֵיה, אָם כֵּן, בִּטַלְתָּ בְּנוֹת יִשְׂרָאֵל מִפְּרְיָה וּרְבִיָּה. וְשַׁמֵּאי, לְטָהָרוֹת הַּוּא דְּקְאַמִינָא, לְטָהָרוֹת הּוּא דְּקְאַמִינָא, וְשַׁמֵּאי, לְטָהָרוֹת וַמִּי לֹא, דְּאָם כֵּן, לְבּוֹ נוֹקְפוֹ וּפּוֹרַשׁ. עַד כָּאן.

One disagreement is brought at the beginning of tractate Niddah:

[Shammai] says: For all women [who do not have a fixed menstrual cycle], their time is sufficient. [I.e., their ritual impurity begins at the moment they noticed the flow of blood. They don't have to worry that perhaps it began earlier.]

Hillel says: From examination to examination. [I.e., she should assume she was ritually impure from the last time she examined herself], and [this is the law] even [if the last examination was] several days [earlier]. [Any ritually pure item with which she came in contact in the interim becomes ritually impure.]

- Mishnah Niddah 1:1; Niddah 2a

In the Gemara there, page 3b:

Hillel is saying to Shammai: Yes, you state the reason [for your opinion] that if it is so that there was [any menstrual] blood [previously], it would have come [out] at the outset. Nevertheless, [you should] enact a safeguard for your statement [and render her retroactively impure], as in what [way is this case] different from the rest of the entire Torah, where [the Sages] enact safeguards?

[Shammai] said to [Hillel]: If so [i.e., if she is considered impure retroactively as a safeguard], you will have caused the Jewish women to be derelict in [the mitzvah to] be fruitful and multiply. [If a woman is always deemed retroactively impure, she and her husband might abstain from engaging in sexual intercourse out of fear that she is already impure even if she has not yet experienced bleeding.]

And [how does] Hillel [respond]? [Although I rule that she is retroactively impure] did I say [that she is forbidden to her husband and must therefore abstain] from [the mitzvah to] be fruitful and multiply? I said [only] that [she renders impure any] ritually pure [items that she touched].

And [how would] Shammai respond? Even [a safeguard that renders] ritually pure [items impure should] not [be imposed], for if so, [the] heart [of a scrupulous husband might] strike him and he [would] separate [from her, out of fear that she is impure].

- Niddah 3b

וְהָבֵּה הַלֵּל בְּמַחֲלוֹקֶת זָה הָיָה רוֹצֶה לַעֲשׂוֹת סְיָיג, אֲבָל סְיָיג זָה לֹא הָיָה כּוֹלֵל וְקֶבַע, שֶׁהְבִי לְבַעֲלָה לֹא הָיָה יָכוֹל לַעֲשׂוֹת סְיָיג זָה הֹלֵל וְקֶבַע, שֶׁהְבִי לְבַעֲלָה לֹא הָיָה יָכוֹל לַעֲשׂוֹתוֹ, מְשׁוּם זָה, מִשׁוּם בִּטוּל פִּרְיָה וּרְבִיָּה, אֶלָּא לְטָהָרוֹת דּוְקָא. וְשַׁמֵּאי לֹא רָצָה בְּזָה הַסְּיָיג, דְּהוֹאִיל שֶׁלְבַעְלָה אִי אֶפְשִׁר לַעֲשׂוֹתוֹ, מִשׁוּם בְּטוּל פִּרְיָה וּרְבִיָּה, גַּם לְטָהָרוֹת לֹא עָבְדִינּן לֵיה, דִּילְמָא בְּהָכִי נָמִי אָתֵי לְמִבְטֵל מִפְּרְיָה וּרְבִיָּה, גַּם לְטָהָרוֹת לֹא עַבְדִינּן לֵיה, דִילְמָא בְּהָכִי נָמֵי אָתֵי לְמִבְעׁל מִפְּרְיָה וּרְבִיָּה, גַּם לְטָהָתוֹת לֹא עַבְדִינּן לֵיה, דִּילְמָא בְּהָכִי נָמִי אָתֵי מְמָשׁ, דְּהַיִינוּ גְּדֵירוֹת וּסְיָיגִים שֶׁאַתָּה רוֹצֶה לֹגְזוֹר, יֵשׁ לְּדְּלִים בְּכָל הַצְּדָדִים. וְאִם יֵשׁ צֵּד אֶחָד שֶׁאֵינָם יְכוֹלִים לְהַקְּבַע בּוֹ, אֵין אַתָּה יָכוֹל לְחַדֵשׁ תּוֹרָה זוֹ וְסִייִג זָה.

Here, Hillel in this dispute wanted to enact a safeguard. But this safeguard was not included and made permanent, for [a woman's] husband could not enact this safeguard, because of the dereliction of [the mitzvah to] be fruitful and multiply. Rather, only specifically ritually pure [items are rendered impure].

Shammai didn't want this safeguard, as since it was forbidden for [a woman's] husband to enact it, because of the dereliction of [the mitzvah to] be fruitful and multiply, then also in terms of rendering impure the ritually pure, one shouldn't enact it. For if it were enacted, perhaps in this way he'll come to the cancellation of [the mitzvah to] be fruitful and multiply, for if so, [the] heart [of a scrupulous husband might] strike him and he [would] separate [from her, out of fear that she is impure].

Because of this, Shammai the elder warned, "Make your [study of the] Torah a fixed [practice]," the safeguards that are literally your Torah, which are the fences and safeguards that you want to enact. You should be careful that they are fixed and perfected from all sides, if there is one side which is not able to enact the safeguard, you are not able to create this teaching and safeguard.

This answers Question 1, why Shammai said "Make your [study of the] Torah a fixed [practice]." If a rabbi wants to create a safeguard to prevent violation of a Torah law, it is critical to consider all implications of that safeguard, and to ensure that the safeguard won't lead to harmful unintended consequences.

ְּהָמַּחְלוֹקֶת הַשְּׁנָיָה, שַׁמַּאי אוֹמֵר, מִקָּב לְחַלָּה. וְהָלֵּל אוֹמֵר, מִקּבּיִים. וְכָתַב הַתּוֹסְפוֹת יוֹם טוֹב רֵישׁ מַסֶּכֶת עֵדֵיּוֹת בְּשֵׁם הָרָאֲבִ"ד, וְזֶה לְשׁוֹנוֹ, יֵשׁ לְסְמוֹךְ טַעֵם דְּבְרִיהֶם, עַל מַה שֶׁאָמֵר הַכָּתוּב "רֵאשִׁית עֲרסֹתֵכֶם חַלָּה תָּרִימוּ" וְכוּ', וְכָמָה עִיפַּתְכָם, כְּרִא שִׁירִית מִלְּבַר, הַיְינוּ שֵׁנִי בְּדֵי עִיפַת מִדְבָּר, "וְהָעֹמֶר עֲשִׂרִית הָאֵיפָה" וְכוּ'. וְהָלֵּל סָבַר, מְשׁוּם דְּאֵיפָה שְׁמוֹנָה עֲשָׂר קַבִּין, נַעֲשִׂירִית מִלְּבַר, הַיְינוּ שֵׁנִי בְּבִּין, מְשׁוּם הָכִי, בְּאוֹתוֹ שִׁיעוּר צָרִיךְ לְהַפְּרִישׁ חַלָּה. וְשַׁמַּאי סָבַר, דְּצָרִיךְ שְׁתֵּי חַלּוֹת לָעוֹמֶר, שֶׁהָיוּ עוֹשִׁין מִמֶּנוּ שְׁמֵּי אֲכִילוֹת, אַחַת בָּבֹקר וְאַחַת בָּעֶרָב, וְשִׁיעוּר אֲכִילָה אַחַת חָשִׁיב שַׁמֵּאי עִיפָּת מִדְבָּר, עכ"ל.

As for the second disagreement, Shammai says, "[Dough] of a kav [or more is subject to the law of] challah." And Hillel says: "Of two kavim or more." The Tosfot Yom Tov writes at the beginning of tractate Eduyot (1:2) in the name of the Ra'avad, and this is his language:

We can rely upon the reason for their words, on what Scripture says, "When you enter the Land to which I am taking you, and you eat of the bread of the Land, you shall set some aside as a gift to the L-rd, the first of your dough you shall set aside as a gift."

How much is "your dough"? As the amount of the dough of the wilderness. "The omer is a tenth of an ephah" (Ex. 16:36).<sup>5</sup>

Hillel explains, because an ephah is 18 kavim, and a tenth of this amount is two kavim. This is the amount from which one must take challah.

Shammai explains, that two challahs were required for the omer, as they ate twice from it, once in the morning and once at night. As for the amount used for one meal, Shammai looks at the amount of dough used in the wilderness. [I.e., Shammai agrees that "your dough" is a tenth of an ephah, or two kavim, but he holds that is enough for two challahs, so that each challah is one kav. "The first of your dough," then according to Shammai, is the amount for the morning challah, which is one kav.]

- Tosafot Yom Tov, Eduyot 1:2

ּוְלֹרְמוֹז עַל סְבָרָתוֹ בְּמַחֲלוֹקֶת זָה, אָמַר, אֱמוֹר מְעַט וַעֲשֹׁה הַרְבֵּה, שֶׁהְרֵי בְּכָאן הַכְּתוּב דִּיבֵּר מְעַט, "רֵאשִׁית עֲרַסֹתֵכֶם" דְּמִשְׁמַע פָּל הָעוֹמֶר, שֶׁכֵּלוֹ נִקְרָא עִיפַת מִדְבָּר. וְאַף עַל כִּי כֵן, אָנוּ צְרִיכִים לעֲשׁוֹת הַרְבֵּה, דְּהַיְינוּ לְחַלְּקוֹ בִּשְׁמֵע מִדְבָּר. וְאַף עַל כִּי כֵן, אָנוּ צְרִיכִים לעֲשׁוֹת הַרְבֵּה, דְּמִסְׁלָמָא גַּם הֵם הָיוּ מְחַלְּקִים הָעוֹמֶר, חָצְיוֹ בַּבֹּקֶר וְחָצִיוֹ בָּעֶרֶב, וְהָיוּ עוֹשִׁים מִמֶּנוּ שְׁהֵּי עִיפּוֹת. וְזָהוּ אֱמוֹר הָתְיב שֶׁל הַחַלָּה. דְּמִסְׁתָמָא גַּם הֵם הָיוּ מְקַלְּה שֶׁהוּא שִׁיעוּר מוּעָט, תָּבֹא לַעֲשׁוֹת הַרְבֵּה שֶׁתַּכְּרִישׁ הַחַלָּה אֲפִילוּ מֵעְפָּה שֶׁל קַב אֶחָד לְבַד.

To hint at his opinion in this dispute, he said, "speak little, but do much," for here the Scripture speaks a little, "the first of your dough you shall set aside as a gift," which means the entire omer, for all of it is called "the dough of the wilderness." Nevertheless, we need to do much, which is to divide it into two portions, in order to expand the obligation of the challah, that obviously they would also divide the omer, half for the morning and half for the evening, and they made from it two loaves. This is the meaning of "speak little, but do much," that if you say "[Dough] of a kav or more is subject to the law of challah," as Shammai says, which is a small quantity, you will come to do much, which is to take challah even from dough of only one kav.

The Toldot Shimshon now considers a Kabbalistic view of Hillel and Shammai's dispute of one kav vs two kavim. The Kabbalists<sup>7</sup> will warn according to the Heavenly Zohar about the esoteric secret of this Mishnah. For isn't it written about the midrashic work Sefer HaYashar<sup>8</sup> in the explanations of the holy rabbi, the Arizal,<sup>9</sup> may he be remembered for life in the World to Come, that the challah [חַקָּה] is representative of the supernal bride [בַּלָּה] [kallah], which is the Name of [52], one of the four full spellings of the letters of the Tetragrammaton. This is the spelling [77], having a Gematria of 52.

She takes two kavs. One is a kav charuvim [a kav of carobs] of the earliest time, referencing the teaching that the world was fed because of the holiness of Chanina ben Dosa, for whom a kav of carobs was sufficient to sustain him for an entire week. The root of the word charuvim, carobs, can also be interpreted as "destruction," and in Kabbalistic terms, kav charuvim refers to the kings of the early worlds. G-d created these worlds only with the attribute of strict justice, and they were destroyed before He created this world, to which was joined the attribute of mercy. In

The second is a pure kav of the other three full spellings of the Tetragrammaton, namely, the Name of ב"ג [72], having a spelling of "ו"ד ה"י וי"ו, with a Gematria of 72, the Name of "ג"ד ה"י וא"ו ה"י, with a Gematria of 63, and the Name of מ"ה [45], and the Name of מ"ה, with a Gematria of 45. When only the added letters are considered, i.e., subtracting the pashut, the four letters of the Tetragrammaton, then the Names of ב"ג, ע"ב will have remaining Gematrias of 72-26=46, 63-26=37, and 45-26=19. The sum of these, 46+37+19=102, which is the Gematria of 72, 82.

Against these two aspects, which are two kavs, Hillel held that then one is obligated to take challah, since there was already one kav charuvim from the earliest times, and the second pure kav was added to it, and thus with two kavim, one was obligated in challah.

But Shammai holds, that since there was one kav from the earliest times, there was already within it a hint of the pure kav, and this was sufficient to require the taking of challah. This is precisely the meaning of "speak little, but do much," answering Question 2. Our intent

is to give her also the second kav, even though we say, [dough] of a kav alone is [subject] to [the law of] challah.

ְוָהַמַּחֲלוֹקֶת הַשְּׁלִישִׁית, הָלֵּל אוֹמֵר, מְלֹא הִין מֵיִם שְׁאוּבִים פּוֹסְלִים אֶת הַמִּקְנָה. שַׁמַּאי אוֹמֵר, תִּשְׁעָה קַבִּין. וַחֲכָמִים אוֹמְרִים, לֹא כְּדִבְרֵי זָה וְלֹא כְּדָבְרֵי זָה, עַד שֶׁבָּאוּ שְׁנֵי גַּרְדִּיִּים מִשַּׁעַר הָאַשְׁפּוֹת שֶׁבִּירוּשָׁלִיִם, וְהַעִּידוּ מִשׁוּם שְׁמַעְיָה וְאַבְטַלְיוֹן, שֶׁשְּׁלוֹשָׁה לוּגִּין מֵיִם שְׁאוּבִים, פּוֹסְלִים אֶת הַמִּקְנָה, וְקִיִּימוּ חֲכָמִים אֶת דִּבְרֵיהֶם.

The third dispute:

Hillel says: "A hin full of drawn water renders the mikvah unfit." And Shammai says: "Nine kavs." But the Sages say: "Neither according to the opinion of this one nor according to the opinion of this one." But when two weavers from the Dung Gate, which is in Jerusalem, came and testified in the name of Shemaiah and Avtalion, "Three logs of drawn water render the mikvah unfit," the Sages confirmed their statement.

- Eduyot 1:3

וּפֵרֵשׁ רַשִּׁ"י הַתָּם בְּשַׁבָּת, שֶׁהַטַּעַם שֶׁהוּזְכַּר שֵׁם אוּמָנוּתָם וְשֵׁם מְקוֹמֶם, לְלַמֶּדְּדְּ שֶׁאַל יִמְנַע אָדָם עַצְמוֹ מִבֵּית הַמְּדְרָשׁ אָפִילוּ שָׁצָר בִּירוּשָׁלִיִם פְּחוּת מִשַּׁעַר הָאַשְׁפּוֹת, וְהָכְרִיעוּ בְּעַדוּתָן כָּל חַכְמֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל, שְׁצָר אַחָר, שֶׁאֵין אוּמָנוּת פְּחוּתָה מִגַּרְדִּי, וְאֵין שַעַר בִּירוּשָׁלִים פְּחוּת מִשְׁבֵער הָאַשְׁפּוֹת, וְהָכְרִיעוּ בְּעַדוּתָן כָּל חַכְמֵי שְׁמָּחָמַת עֵדוּת זֶה חָזְרוּ בָּהֶם אַף שׁמַאי וְהַלֵּל מְפְּבָרְתָם הָרְאשׁוֹנָה, וְזָהוּ שֶׁדְּיֵיק רַשִּׁ"י לוֹמֵר, וְכִל כָּרְחָדְ צָריְדְ לוֹמֵר, שְׁהָצִיל וְבָל קַבְּלוּ מִשְּׁמַעְיָה וְאַבְטַלְיוֹן, וּכְשֶׁבָּאוּ אֵלוּ וְהַעִּידוּ מִשֵּׁם שְׁמַעְיָה וְאַבְטַלְיוֹן, וּכְשֶׁבְּאוּ אֵלוּ וְהַעִּידוּ מִשֵּׁם שְׁמַעְיָה וְאַבְטַלְיוֹן, בְּנַדְּאי שֶׁלֹא חָלְקוּ עַל רַבּוֹתָם.

Rashi explained there in tractate Shabbat (15a), that the reason that the title of the occupation and the name of the place was mentioned, is to teach you that a person should not prevent himself from attending the study house even one hour. <sup>12</sup> The reason is that there is no occupation lower than a weaver, and there is no gate in Jerusalem lower than the Dung Gate, and yet these men knew the halacha, because of the time they spent in the study house, and all the wise men of Israel decided according to their testimony.

You necessarily need to say, that because of this testimony, even Shammai and Hillel backtracked from their initial opinions. This is why Rashi was precise to say, "and all the wise men of Israel decided according to their testimony." This is the law, for Shammai and Hillel received the Torah from Shemaiah and Avtalion, <sup>13</sup> and when these weavers came and testified in the name of Shemaiah and Avtalion, it's certain that [Shammai and Hillel] wouldn't dispute their teachers as to the halacha.

וּכְנֶגֶד זֶה אָמֵר שַׁמַּאי, וֶהֱנִי מְקַבֵּל אֶת כָּל הָאָדָם בְּסֵבֶר פָּנִים יָפוֹת, וַאֲפִילוּ שֶׁיִהְיֶה אָדָם גָּרוּעַ שֶׁיָּעִיד אֵיזֶה דִּין אוֹ סְבָרָא מִפִּי חָכָם גָּדוֹל, יֵשׁ לְדְּ לַחְזוֹר מִסְּבָרָתְדְּ בַּשִּׁמְחָה. "בְּסֵבֶר" לָשׁוֹן סְבָרָא, "בְּפָנִים יָפוֹת" בְּשִׁמְחָה רַבָּה. וּמִשׁוּם שֶׁאֵלוּ שֶׁהַעִידוּ, הִיוּ בַּהֵם שִׁנֵי דְּבַרִים לְגָרִיעוּתַא כָּגַאֱמַר לְעֵיל, מִשׁוּם הַכִּי קַאָמֵר "אֵת כַּל", שֶׁהָם שָׁנֵי רְבּוּיִים.

Corresponding to this, Shammai said, "receive all men with the expression of a pleasant countenance." In Question 3, asked why our Mishnah didn't simply say "Receive all men with a pleasant countenance." The answers is that even if an inferior man testifies about some law or opinion according to a great Torah scholar, one should happily turn from his own opinion and follow the correct ruling. That is, the word בְּבֶּבֶּ [be'sever] ["with the expression"] is hinting at the language of מְבֶּרָא [s'vara] ["opinion"]. Similarly, "with a pleasant countenance" [means] with great happiness.

We also asked, in Question 4, why our Mishnah said "receive all men," instead of simply saying, "receive men." The answer is because these who testified had two inferior things about them, viz, having the lowly occupation of being weavers, and having lived in the vicinity at the Dung Gate, as mentioned above. Because of this, it says "all men," for there are two plurals. I.e., "men" alone is plural, but saying "all men" stresses that there is a plurality. This is parallel to the fact that the weavers at the Dung Gate had not just one inferior thing about them, but two inferior things.
